New Tariff Bill Slated To Pass In House Today

House

BILL LIKELY TO DISPLEASE SENATE

Proposed Motion To Recom-
mit Only Stumbling Block In Way Of Passage

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The first tariff bill enacted by congress in seven years is slated to pass the house late today with an overwhelming Republican vote and probably with the votes of many Democrats. The bill will then go to the senate, where it awaits an uncertain fate.

With most controversial amendments already disposed of and the house operating under a special rule which called for a vote at 3 p. m., the only formidable obstacle in the path of the Hawley bill was a proposed motion to recommit.

Garner Active

Rep. John N. Garner of Texas, Democratic leader, proposed to make one last stand against the bill by offering the motion to recommit to committee with instructions to amend it.
Garner's amendments include:
Make the tariff commission a fact-finding body responsible to congress, instead of an agency used solely by the president in raising or lowering duties under the flexible tariff act.
Eliminate proposals in the Hawley bill to give the treasury power to make valuations, which would have the effect also of barring court review.
Direct the House committee to adjust schedules so that duties shall not exceed cost of production in the United States and abroad.

In the last proposal, Garner pursued the Democratic doctrine of basing the tariff on difference of cost of production.

Planned As Relief

The Hawley bill, as it goes to the Senate is designed to relieve "sick industries" and to raise agricultural tariffs.

The bill raises the tariff level to the highest in history. It is entirely in accord with the Republican platform pledge to secure the do-

Say not a word about the heat, nor after our complaining sound, what though it's up to ninety-one and heat waves are up from the ground.
What though your cellar is a wreck,
on that your nose is badly burned,
this is the weather we have sought, the kind for which the farmers boasted. Be still with any plaint or sigh, nor should you say it's even hot,
before the week is out no doubt,
the rain will cool it like an ice cream.
May Day the weather's mine, for gold or baseball or the farm, and days like these are priceless ones and full of sunshine grace and charm. Be still, my friend, you say it's warm, that's true it may be hotter yet, but what about the rain we had, let's hope the summer will get set.

city has seen in years.

It was the parade of the Grand

Knights Templar.
Down streets massed with spectatlers and hung with bunting and the crown and cross emblems of the Templars, moved the Grand Commandery

The dignitaries of the Templars passed in automobiles. But back of them came ten thousand Knights

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The
special session of congress, which President Hoover called to handle the farm and tariff problems will be recessed from June 11 to September 9 under a tentative program agreed to today by administration leaders.

The senate and house however will have to complete a certain portion of their legislative program before the recess is taken. The controversy over farm relief may prove a stumbling block as the administration has decreed the agricultural measure must be enacted into law before congress can take a vacation. On the other hand if the program is completed sooner the recess may start even as early as next Tuesday June 4.

Build Machine Shop At Plant

Another Addition Is Being Made
At Johnson Bronze
Plant

Work has been started by the Johnson Bronze company on a machine shop facing on Mill street to take care of the constantly increasing needs of the plant. The building will contain about 3000 square feet of floor space and will contain presses.

In the past two years the Johnson Bronze company has been constantly expanding and every available foot of ground they have is being utilized.
The site of the machine shop is between the office building and the first plant building on Mill street and will fill up what has been a courtyard there.

GIVE ATHLETES 'CUT' IN 'GATE,' IS ROGERS' IDEA

(Special To The News)
PITTSBURGH, May 28.—
Throw Iowa out of the football league for paying too much to their players. Most of the colleges
just give 'em
board a n d schooling, if they want to take a n y schooling.

These other colleges are not so shocked that they won't play
with Iowa this fall, then break
off next year.
There is only one fair way to ever arrange amateur athletics in any line in this country and that's let the athletes work on commission of what they draw at the gate then make them pay their own schooling ex-

MOTHER KILLS THREE CHILDREN; SUICIDES

(International News Service)
MARTINSBURG, W. Va., May 28.—
A triple murder and suicide were brought to light here today when John Manford's home here was bro-

ing.

The bodies of Mrs. Clara Manford and her three young children were found stretched out on the floor of a gas-filled summer kitchen. All were dead.

Investigation disclosed Mrs. Manford had carried the children from their sleeping rooms on the second floor to the summer kitchen and had opened all the burners of the gas stove.

Previously she had sealed all the doors and windows of the room. Apparently the children died without awakening.

Rotarians Get Down To Work

Rotary International From All Parts Of World Gathered In Dallas Texas

(International News Service) DALLAS, Texas, May 28.—With messages from President Hoover of the United States and former President Calles of Mexico, the hosts of Rotary International from all over the world, prepared to get down to business in annual convention here today.

President Hoover's message read: "Please express for me to the delegates of Rotary International my deep appreciation of the civic value of the public spirit that animates you and similar organizations and as well of the useful part they play in the cultivation of International friendship and the reason of the acquaintance they inspire and the fellowship in common ideals they practice."

PA NEW OBSERVES

The list and get the kiddies started on a reading program. One should not read just to pass the time but the life of a child, even that is a very fine thing.

Boy Scouts will be out these days and have the cemeteries in spick and span shape for Memorial Day. Scouts have been assigned to every cemetery in the county and they are going to assist in services as well as aid in decorating graves and cleaning up. There will be hundreds of scouts on the job.

New Castle pedestrians in general are very careful about observing traffic regulations. Many are found crossing the main street when the traffic light is against them, while lots of others do not bother to cross at the crossings but select any place that suits their fancy. The other day Pa New saw three people in succession narrowly escape being run over while attempting to board a Highland car, one woman walking in front of a machine despite the frantic honks of warning given by the driver.

With the advent of torrid weather this week, numerous summer furs have made their appearance. They seem considerably heavier than the winter variety, and are worn more lightly about the throat.

Thursday will be the last holiday of the school year before the term ends a week or so later and the term will go over for the year, June 6th to be exact.

The Consistory Legion of Honor bugle and drum corps made their first appearance on the street Sunday evening when they headed the parade from the Water street service to the First Presbyterian church. They made a snappy appearance in their cream-colored uniforms. They will participate in the Memorial Day parade on Thursday.

Not in many years has there been such an abundance of flowers available for grave decorations on Memorial Day. The season this year is favored over former years, and the extreme warmth of the past few days has brought out many new blooms.

Young Pa New observed Monday afternoon that motorists continue to drive in the wrong traffic lane when coming down East Washington street where Neshannock intersects. Police just recently relined the guide lines, but there are still some who take the middle course even though they swing into East when they reach the corner.

The swimming season, Pa New believes has already opened. Last night at Neshannock bathing beach there were at least two enjoying the cool waters while out along the Edinburg improved highway four small lads were seen enjoying the paddling about in the waters of a small run. If the "aith" continues very long there will probably be others setting out for the pools.

Efforts of Congressman J. Howard Swick to obtain better mail service for the Volant district will meet with the whole-hearted approval of residents there. It is a district that certainly deserves an improvement. The mail deliveries to and from the place are mighty few.

It is suggested to Pa New that some congestion in traffic would be averted if there was a sign at Greenwood avenue and West Washington street, telling strangers which way to turn to get to Pittsburgh. Many cars stop when Washington street is reached and hold up traffic on Greenwood avenue because of failure to know which way to proceed, Pa New is informed.

The hole in the street on Highland avenue near Moody, which was mentioned by Pa New several days ago has been repaired. Fine. Now there's another one that we desire to have given a little attention. It is between Hazleroth and Sedgewood avenues, if we remember correctly.

Down in Washington a new plan of aiding motorists is being tried out. A powerful magnet is transported over the main highways and all tacks and pieces of steel, etc., that would damage auto tires, are cleared off the streets. Sounds good.

Work is in progress on the municipal tennis courts on Boyles field. The backstops are being moved and the courts this year will be about the finest in the city. Last summer they were in use continuously for several months, and the probabilities are that they will be much in demand this summer. Some plan should be arranged to prevent one or two sets of players monopolizing the courts this summer.

Cemeteries about the city and county are now looking their best. Many flowers have been set out, and the plots cleaned up, in preparation for Memorial Day.

Pa New saw a humane act last night on the part of two motorists. A lonely kitty stepped out in the street directly in the path of the car. The one motorist stopped dead and the chap coming the other way also stopped so that the cat would have an avenue of escape should it cross his side of the street.

Yesterday was the hottest day of the year to date, the official temperature standing at 88 degrees. Farmers of the county have been getting in some good crops during the past few days, and are only hoping that the present weather continues a few more weeks.

The river stage, which is now at the lowest point it has been for several months is still several feet above normal at this time of the year. Generally it stands around four feet while yesterday's reading showed it was 64 feet.

Careless smokers have caused three fire calls during the past few days, which fortunately have not caused any serious damage. Smokers should be careful where they throw lighted matches and lighter cigarettes. Serious conflagrations often result.

Well, the new motor code changes are announced. B. N. Hamilton at the motor club office has a little book which specifically lists all of the changes from the old rules. There are quite a few, to be sure.

Out in the country there has been more activity in the past few days than there has been all spring and winter. Every farmer is working 16 hours a day to get his crops in before another rain. Pa New heard one say that he was afraid there would be a dry spell. Well, you can't have the weather made to order.

Speaking of the weather reminds Pa New of what Samuel Clemens said about the weather, and we would like to tell it here. The quip was that everybody was always talking about the weather, but no one ever did anything about it.

Pa New might have boarded a bus on Washington street about noon and stepped off in Philadelphia tomorrow. Three immense buses went through the city shortly before noon, en route to Philadelphia, where they are to be placed in service. They were orange in color and were designated for "City Hall, Philadelphia."

Why not pass a bill to lift every farmer's mortgage? That would be a rural constituents and the President could be counted on to veto it.

Tariff bill—Passage by house this afternoon; reference to senate finance committee tomorrow.

Farm bill—An agreement between house and senate conferees on farm relief by end of week with both senate and house approving a bill with the export rebate plan eliminated early next week.

Census reapportionment bill—Passage by senate Wednesday or Thursday; passage by house by next Monday.

Repeal of national origin act—A possible vote early next week in senate; no action in house prior to recess.

May Delay Fight

The fight to amend Senate rules as to provide publication of all roll calls and public consideration of presidential nominations probably will go over until next fall.

President Hoover has sent word to his spokesmen on Capitol Hill that the farm measure must be a law before Congress can go home. Thus far the Senate and House conferees have deadlocked because the Senate inserted the rebate plan in the bill. The House conferees have refused to consider the bill until the rebate is eliminated. Senate conferees have insisted the conference act upon the bill as a whole before they take any steps to eliminate the rebate. Neither side has budged from these positions for the last 10 days.

Terminate Debate

The House meanwhile was terminating its tariff debate and the Senate was continuing its discussion of the new census and reapportionment bill. The Senate may hurdle its biggest reapportionment row this afternoon by voting on a proposal to eliminate all aliens from the next census—a plan which far-reaching effect upon congressional representation from the large cities and industrial states. After that there will be another fight over the section giving a President power to automatically reapportion the House after each census if Congress fails to do so. Then, the various factions will be ready for a final vote on the bill.

had just started over Danfill Hollow when it began to swoop and dive in the air and fell into a tail spin. The pilot managed to right the plane for an instant, it was said, and it had started to glide when it crashed into a tree top, fell into the Hollow and overturned.

Nearly residents who had seen the plane fall rushed to the scene. Before they could arrive, however, thieves had looted the bodies of the three fliers. The vandals fled when rescue parties arrived on the scene.

On First Flight

Lieut. Prater and Clark were taken to the Allegheny Valley hospital where it was said today that their injuries were serious and that both had suffered internal injuries.

Young Trinks, it was learned, had received permission only yesterday to take up flying. His father, Prof. W. Trinks, head of the mechanical engineering department at Carnegie Tech, agreed to his son's flying aims. It was Trinks' first instruction flight.

meat market to American producers, according to Chairman Hawley of the ways and means committee.

Democrats are not united on the bill. Some of them have announced uncompromising opposition, while several, including Representative Crips (D) of Georgia; Hill (D) of Washington, and Connery (D) of Massachusetts, have declared in favor of the high protective tariff rates.

In voting overwhelmingly for a tariff on books, shoes, hides and leather which have been on the free list, the House disposed of the most controversial amendment open to a vote, the sugar schedule having been closed under the rule.

TEMPLARS PARADE IN PITTSBURGH

crude spectators jammed the sidewalks to witness the parade.

As the first strains of music heralded the approach of the column the crowd of onlookers increased. Stand- ing room was at a premium. Windows of the buildings along the line of march were filled with other specta- tors. They stood atop automobiles; they jostled each other and stood on tiptoe, craning to get all the details of the colorful procession.

Even the rooftops of the downtown buildings had their quotas of on- lookers who couldn't risk the crush of the sidewalks.

At 10 o'clock the parade formed. There was a crash of music and the long line got under way.

Down Fifth avenue the parade moved, slowly, halting occasionally to permit the column to straighten itself out and move ahead.

Parade is Reviewed

The halls were crisscrossed by the drill evaluations of picked companies and music from the dozen bands in the line of march.

Through the downtown district the Knights wound their way and out to the north side where a reviewing stand covering three city blocks and seating 6,000 spectators had been erected.

There city and county officials and dignitaries of the order reviewed the massed warriors. And there the long procession came to a halt, broke up into little groups of warm but happy Knights and disbanded.

Entertainment Galore

The Knights dispersed. Many of them for a boat trip down the Ohio river, sponsored by Chartiers Com- mandery No. 2 of Pittsburgh. Others set out for the dozens of tents, re- ceptions, meetings and entertain- ments on the program for today.

Sightseeing tours occupied many of them and others decided to rest up a bit before starting out on the eve- ning's activities, which included ban- quets, a ball and theater parties.

The Grand Commandery session tomorrow, at which officers will be elected and installed for the coming year, is the chief business of the main- ing before the Templar convolve. With that disposed of and a conven- tion city picked for 1930, the sessions of the order will be ended.

INSTALL OFFICERS FOR B. P. W. CLUB

Installation of officers for the ensuing year took place at a meeting of the Business and Professional Women's Club held Monday night in the Y. W. C. A. The new officers are Miss Nancy Bechtel, president; Miss Beas Galey, vice-president; Miss Ruth Zerner, secretary; Miss Naomi Runyon, treasurer; Miss Mary Wilson, corresponding secretary; and Miss Emily Salomon, state director. The club decided to continue its clinic work for another year and also to aid the Girl Scout Council.

Miss Nancy Bechtel and Miss Beas Galey were chosen as delegates to attend the tenth annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs to be held at Mackinac Island, Michigan, July 8 to 12. Miss Emily Salomon, Miss Ruth Zerner, and Miss Helen Hinkson were chosen as alternates.

It is anticipated that this will be the largest convention in the history of the National Federation. The program is especially designed to do honor to the women who had a part in the founding of the organization, and a Pioneer's Committee headed by Mrs. Lena Lake Foster of Detroit, Michigan, is endeavoring to secure the attendance of every woman who was present at the organization meeting at St. Louis, Missouri, in July, 1919.

International relations will be one of the subjects stressed on the convention program. Representatives from the Toronto, Canada, club which has affiliated with the Federation will be given by the presence of Dr. Maria Castellani of Rome, Italy, who founded the Business and Professional Women's Club in Rome. Dr. Castellani, who studied at Bryn Mawr in 1924 on an international scholarship, will be the principal speaker on International Night, Wednesday, July 10. The convention program will also lay particular emphasis upon vocational round tables.

Social features of the convention include a field day with golf and other sports on Saturday, July 13, and also a trip to the Soo Locks.

Britain's Election.
An Epitaph for Sun.
Theory Is Easy.
Ice Water? No, Thanks.

By ARTHUR G. BRISBANE
(Copyright, 1929, King Features
Synd., Inc.)

At Britain's general election next Thursday surprises are expected. A. L. Chamberlain may lose his seat. Birmingham is radical and "Labor" Lady Asquith contributed to the House of Commons by Virginia. has a hard fight, and is able to handle it, including rough words and actions by some who think her husband too rich. It is generally expected that Baldwin will win by a much reduced majority, with Labor a close second, and Lloyd George's liberal party with barely 60 members, but enough, perhaps, to give him the balance of power.

The British are fortunate in their national leaders. Baldwin, Lloyd George and Ramsay MacDonald are all of unselfish patriotism and real ability.

One British gentleman, almost in earnest, has recently suggested that "America is very rich. We are hard up. Why not let America run its own country and ours, and help pay our taxes in an Anglo-American empire. Having the brains, we British would easily set control and run the whole thing." That sounds conceited, unless you consider the source.

Sun Yat-Sen, president of China, dead for a long time, not yet definitely buried, is on his way to his final resting place in the mountains near Nanking.

What will be written on his tomb? Here lies one who established republican government too soon, might do.

Some student should write a book on the epitaphs of conquerors and statesmen. Napoleon's inscription reads that he wished to be buried beside the Seine, among the French people, whom I have so much loved. Republican France should long ago have added, "And whom I so plentifully slaughtered." But the great Cossack brought glory to France and merited glory.

In Samarkand on the tomb of Tamerlane, greatest Asiatic conqueror, the inscription reads: "This is the resting place of the illustrious and meritorious monarch, the most great Sultan, and the most mighty warrior, Lord Timur, conqueror of the earth."

Tamerlane built pyramids of human skulls, lighted from within. If he was meritorious, you can imagine what the others were.

But he did rebuild magnificent Samarkand, where Genghis ruled before him, and where Alexander, in drunken anger, killed Cyrus, his best friend.

It is easy to theorize, easy to have a special session of congress, concentrating on farm relief.

Theory and the special session don't keep wheat from dropping to a new low record for the season, last week.

Farmers in an age of intensive mass production work on in the old-fashioned individualistic way. Farm relief will be needed until farm work is organized on modern lines. No man in an old wheelwright shop could make a living building automobiles.

Sir Esmé Howard, British ambassador, politely suggests that foreign representatives give up their right to import beverages. Anything to oblige the administration, in these debt adjusting days.

The French embassy emphatically says: "No, thank you. We do not care to live on the water ice cream and mince pie. When we go to China, we do not eat buckwheat cakes with sausage or drink ice cream soda water in America."

President Hoover, having seen the world, knowing his ways, would not dream of "Creeping America's feeble attempt at totalitarianism or foreign representatives."

Steamfitters' and plumbers' unions threaten to tie up $500,000,000 worth of building in Chicago because of quarrels between unions.

Unable to agree among themselves as to their "jurisdiction" in certain lines of work, the unions would stop building, throw out of work thousands of men with whom they have quarrel, tie up the business, capital and machinery of building.

Such supidity is worthy of angry chimpanzees, not of intelligent American mechanics. It is calculated to obliterate public sympathy for unions. They are none too strong as it is, with jobs plentiful, wages high, dues and strikes rather a bore.

China Tamani, who thinks he knows what India needs, wants British power expelled and rulership of India restored to the rajahs under constitutional government.

Native princes submitting themselves to constitutional regulations would be interesting. A restoration of native rule would mean restoration of native rule.

COUNT THE ALIENS?

AT THE present time the United States Senate is wrestling with a problem that concerns Pennsylvania and all the other industrial states in a rather peculiar way. The question is whether or not alien residents shall be counted in the apportionment of congressmen.

Casually considered one might be inclined to agree that it seemed fair to count only citizens, but the ramifications of the question go deep and after viewing the matter from all angles it is to be hoped that Pennsylvania's only sitting senator, David A. Reed will oppose the resolution.

True it is that aliens do not help to elect congressmen. It is also true that they owe allegiance to another government. But it is also true that the districts in which they live require the attention of congress, they are a part of the community, their property is taxed, and in everything save voting, they require the same attention from the country's law making body as does a citizen.

The resolution would add the western and southern states. There may be some little merit to the charge that the present proportionment is slightly unfair to them.

One must remember however that no matter how small the state, it has two United States senators. Utah, Nevada, New Mexico, Wyoming, Arizona and perhaps a couple of others added would not show the population of Pennsylvania. But their senatorial representation in each instance is the same as Pennsylvania and for some time has been twice as great.

The resolution to not count aliens in determining the number of congressmen should be defeated. Should it pass Pennsylvania would probably lose one or more congressmen. After viewing the selfish actions of the other states towards Pennsylvania in the past five years, who would say that we can spare any congressmen?

NEWSPAPER NOT AN OSTRICH

NEWSPAPER publishers and editors have been notified that the daily press should give less prominence to details of crime and divorce. There are those who go so far in their criticism of journalistic practices and ethics as to put most of the blame upon the press for the so-called crime and divorce waves.

That newspapers ought to stop reporting crimes, since criminals are not stopped from committing them, is an old idea, to be sure. But the coupling of crime and divorce as twin evils, alike in being too terrible to mention, strikes one as possessing something of novelty. What could be more completely and essentially unlike than these two things, flourishing in the United States as nowhere else?

Crime is unlawful, at least theoretically. But whereas crime exists so copiously in spite of the law, divorce exists because of the law, with its full consent and co-operation. At least 47 varieties of statute tell the candidate what to claim and how to proceed. Society's hearty sanction is expressed by the judge who delivers the decree and the clerk who collects the court costs. If crime is law's deadly enemy, divorce is law's beloved child.

Suggesting the same treatment for both—namely, a pretense that they are of no consequence or do not exist—seems rather like proposing that we shut our eyes to everything except the pure, the good and the beautiful and make believe the world has attained perfection. Could there be a better way to put an end to progress?

ITALIAN BEAUTY MUST NOT BE EXPLOITED

MANY have objected to "beauty contests" as demoralizing, but ways of preventing them have been far to seek. The problem has been solved in Italy by the intervention of that Admirable Crichton among dictators, Mussolini, to whom nothing human is foreign. Acting through the Ministry of the Interior, he has forbidden them. The order to the prefects says that these contests lower the moral standard of communities and exalt dangerously feminine vanity.

Since public opinion in Italy has always been adverse to this kind of display, and those partaking in it have been regarded as declassing themselves, few protests against the order are likely to follow. Frivolity is anathema under Fascist rule. "Life is real, life is earnest," and the light or humorous view of it is impossible to such a serious man as Mussolini.

A man who says he is too poor to marry is not in love.

Mosquitoes are taking up bareback riding for the summer.

The older a person gets the quicker the future becomes the past.

A great many things in this world have started on a shoe-string, including a bad day in the shoestring breaks.

Will making the golf ball larger help to make the scores smaller? If not, the average dub will immediately lose interest in the matter.

It is said the completed Boulder Dam will hold enough water to cover the state of Ohio to the depth of one foot, but we don't believe it would, even if it were possible to make the experiment. We've had enough rain here in Pennsylvania during the past two months to make the whole blooming state an outdoor swimming pool, but nothing much has happened except, perhaps, a little discomfort.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 7:20. Sun rises tomorrow 4:35.

Some birds try to get away with murder and still expect honest people to have respect for them. It don't go with the writer of this gush.

Memorial day is on Thursday this week. It is a day of sacred memories to all appreciative Americans. Keep your rough stuff for the Fourth of July.

Few of the big jobs are held by men who stand at the door for an hour after saying they must go.

About the hardest thing to find nowadays is the woman who had rather be known as the best housekeeper in town than as the best bridge player in town.

IF HE IS RUDE TO THE LOWLY, HIS DAD DIDN'T WASH

You can recognize trash blood by its manners—not because it is always discourteous, but because it is discourteous when it has nothing to lose and courteous to a fault when it has something to gain.

Like the lower class of humans, it fears and humbles itself to get a profit or escape a beating, but give it a little authority and it becomes arrogant and overbearing.

The man whose blood is good is not afraid to be considerate and courteous in his dealings with the lowly. He is sure of himself.

But the man whose blood is trash is ever conscious of inferiority, and when opportunity offers he becomes a bully in an effort to seem important.

Give him a job where he need not depend on his neighbors for a living and he will snap and snarl at them.

The low-class misfit is despised the world over because he is like a whipped dog when humility promises a profit and like a slave-driver when he has the advantage.

Trash blood, though rich and possessed of authority, is despised for the same reason.

Find a man who habitually grows at people whose good will is not essential to his prosperity and nine times in ten you have one whose shoes washed only in summer.

The time to sell anything is when you are offered several times what it is honestly worth. We know of a case where a man was offered $25,000 for an indifferent piece of property and refused it. He would gladly take ten thousand for it now. A lot of Florida investors could be enthusiastic witnesses to that fact. Oh, wham de doodle wham!

Some fellows are Democrats just to be odd—and they are.

WHAT POWER DOES

Power gradually extirpates from the mind every human and gentle virtue.—Burke.

About the only difference between a taxidermist and a taxi driver is that one skins animals and the other skins humans.

A United States senator is named Dill. He made the statement the other day that the Senate should investigate itself. We agree with him and have come to the conclusion that he isn't so much of a pickle even if he is a Democrat.

Dear Fred: A friend of mine lost $500 in a game the other evening. But the worst of it was that $500 was in cash.

GUS.

The five-day week may effect some saving, but think how many more emergency wards will be required.

There are some old dames who have young and exceedingly nimble tongues—and they spill their stuff about aint and sinner without even asking if it is true or not. Hell was originally started for this type of human.

Some folks are wise, and some are otherwise—mostly otherwise.

The easiest way to "diet" is to make yourself quit being hungry. That sounds hard, but as a matter of fact it is a simple business. Do you know what hunger is—what causes it? Well, it's just as mechanical as the beating of the heart. In every human and every animal, the stomach "cramps" at intervals—that is, it alternately contracts and expands for a period varying from half an hour to an hour—and then it rests for a while. The spasm is nature's way of forcing food from the stomach to the intestines. If there is food in the stomach, you are not aware that anything is happening; but when it is empty the spasm irritates the sensory nerve and it sends a message to the brain: "Send some supplies down." When the sugar content of the blood is high the spasms of the stomach are less frequent. Therefore, to avoid hunger you may ruble sugar at intervals. Nothing else will kill an appetite so quickly. Another good "cure" is a smoke. When the stomach informs you of hunger, your mouth glands begin to produce moisture to aid digestion. Your mouth literally waters, and this flow of juices increases hunger. Tobacco deadens the sensitive nerves of the mouth, checks the work of the glands and thus sends to your stomach the false report that you really aren't hungry, after all. Sugar fattens; but a little sugar taken the place of much food. And a smoke in time saves nine helpings.

We are truly glad Lindbergh is married. Glory be! Also Oodgie! And Wham de Doodle Wham!

We noticed an ad the other day reading: "Electrically fresh eggs. Hag Hotties. These eggs are guaranteed not over three days old. I got them from my son."

One lady in New York is suing an older lady for fifty thousand dollars damages because she called her a cow. Oh, this is too much! Omigosh several times in gasp!

Blessed are the poor. They can go to jail without being annoyed by photographers.

TRUTH IN A SMALL PACKAGE

An article now selling two for a quarter would probably sell three for a quarter if men could somehow be made to pay their just debts.—E. W. Howe.

A shiek at the corner of Mill and Washington street said yesterday: "I am tired and sick of the admiration of beautiful women. It's your turn to lie now."

When some terrible things happen we all think it about the worst thing that could happen and in a short time something happens that is a hundred times worse. Things are getting more terrible and more terrible right along.

Half the world wonders how the other half lives and manages to keep an automobile.

The pint of booze on the hip is more likely to get you arrested and fined than being caught with a six-shooter on the hip fully loaded and a desire for murder in your heart these days. It's a good thing to keep shy of both of these deadly weapons.

Down in Florida they have had thoughts about England, where they use Florida grapefruit in cocktails.

The hand that rocks the steering wheel is the hand that ruins the wheel. And that's no dream, sweetie heart!

We heard a very dour woman frown out of the Cathedral the other night that she doesn't want the girl to marry for money, but she said she doesn't want them to make the mistake that she did and marry just for work. Oh, how-doo-doo-doo!

End Of Tacna-Arica Dispute Believed Gain For Continent

While Bolivia Has Not Been Satisfied Predictions Are Made That Future Friendly Concessions Will Be Favorable To That Country

After several premature announcements from unofficial sources, word from the United States government, nearly always in such cases, was based upon compromise. The territory in dispute was divided, with $6,000,000 to Peru. It is a triumph for the diplomacy and common sense of this period. The BINGHAMTON PRESS holds that "importance of the settlement may not be easily overestimated," and that paper adds that it was achieved "in a fashion which will greatly hasten the peace-loving leaders of world affairs." Great significance is observed also by the BUFFALO EVENING NEWS in the ability of these two former foes "to reach a common basis of mutual concession."

Campaign For Cathedral Fund Starts June 10

To Make Final Preparations For Opening Of Drive At Luncheon Tomorrow

TEAM ORGANIZATIONS WILL BE COMPLETED

New Castle's part in the Scottish Rite Cathedral's carefully prepared campaign for complete renovation of the Cathedral will open tomorrow with a luncheon at The Castleton, when the officers and finance committee of the local district will meet.

With the New Castle send-off dated for June 10 the meeting tomorrow will concern itself with the completion of teams and the planning of what is known in campaign parlance as the pre-campaign sales.

This feature of the work will be in charge of the finance committee which consists of S. Reed McGowan, chairman, William Bell, John Lockhart, Howard Richards, Fred L. Reitz, Frank A. Schulz, Robert Tully and M. D. Wells. Assisting them will be the officers of the campaign team organization.

These are: First regiment, C. W. Herman Hess, colonel; Louis B. Round, W. Fulton Jackson, Welby C. Rush, majors; Second regiment, Fred L. Reitz, colonel; James Ope, Chas. B. Phillips and Joseph Williams, majors.

Thirty teams with five men each on the six battalions will comprise the team organization. Each team will have five members in addition to the captain making a complete team force with the officers of 188 members.

An index figure of ten is used in figuring out the job of the campaigners, both in New Castle and in the territory outside. For New Castle, each worker will have ten prospects to interview with ten days in which to do the work. Starting as it does on June 10 the index is a complete set of instructions for the New Castle force.

The entire Scottish Rite membership of the Valley of New Castle in Western Pennsylvania has been organized on the same basis. With the membership in Western Pennsylvania numbering 6,450, this force has been in process of organization during the past two months, with notable completeness. In the 269 towns and cities grouped in 52 zones or districts the committees are all organized and in many cases already at work.

The schedule for the organization of zones calls for eight zones each week to start their canvass, with ten days in which to complete. First reports from these will be received at the end of the present week.

Complete re-financing of the Cathedral's fund and current debt is the object of the campaign. The issuance of a new trustee's certificate, secured as to principal by the use of a modern plan of insurance will enable the Cathedral to carry its debt at a low rate of interest, while paying it off with the cash or installment payments made by subscribers to the new certificates.

Officers of the campaign who consist of 120 members from all over the western part of the state formed into a campaign cabinet accept the fine cooperation everywhere extended as evidence of the wide interest of the membership not only in the financial security and reputation of the Masonic order but in the uniquely complete organization of a territory 10,000 miles in extent. It is said that such complete organization over so great a territory has never before been attempted except during the war drives.

COLONEL LINDBERGH AND BRIDE ENJOYING SECRET HONEYMOON

home of the bride's father, Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow, at Englewood, N. J. Announcement of the much discussed wedding was withheld, however, until three hours later and by that time the couple had disappeared by automobile.

They eluded a cordon of reporters and photographers who had laid siege to the estate for weeks, and dropped from sight as completely as did the "Lone Eagle" that dawned two years ago when, as an unknown figure, he soared into the mists overhanging the Atlantic on his epic non-stop flight from New York to Paris.

Twenty Guests.

The wedding ceremony was held in the drawing room of the Morrow home, the house in which the bride was born 22 years ago. "Lindy," incidentally, is 27. Only twenty guests were present and they were all, with one exception, relatives of the Morrow family and the bridegroom. Colonel Lindbergh's one relative present was his mother, Mrs. Evangeline L. Lindbergh.

"Lindy" and Anne were married by the Rev. Dr. William Adams Brown, of New York city, professor of systematic theology in Union Theological Seminary. The ceremony was an abbreviated form of the Episcopal and Presbyterian ritual.

The word "obey" was not used. It was "Love, Honor and Cherish," not "Love, Honor and Obey." It was said, however, that Dr. Brown habitually omits the word "obey" from marriage ceremonies unless asked specifically to use it. Lindbergh is known to have requested that certain parts of the ritual be omitted but what they were could not be learned.

Ambassador Gives Daughter Away. Ambassador Morrow gave the bride away. As he did, he regarded his daughter with affection and his son-in-law with pride. The tall, slim aviator towered above the shy, demure girl at his side.

The bride was dressed beautifully but with the utmost simplicity. She wore a gown of white chiffon that had been made by Miss Mary Smith, a seamstress of Englewood. A short, net veil descended from her head. She carried a bouquet of larkspur and columbine that had been given to her a few minutes before by Lindbergh. He had gone in the garden on the estate and picked them himself.

Lindbergh was dressed in a blue business suit and a dark, inconspicuous tie. He was calm and self-possessed throughout the ritual, responding to questions in a quiet, steady voice. Anne's demeanor was equally unperturbed.

Room Not Decorated.

The room where the ceremony was held was not decorated for the occasion. There were only a few flowers about—bunches of larkspur and tulips and lilies of the valley, all taken from the estate.

Guests besides Mrs. Lindbergh and Ambassador and Mrs. Morrow, included the bride's two younger sisters, the Misses Constance and Elizabeth Morrow; General J. J. Morrow, a brother of the Ambassador; Miss Alice Morrow, the bride's aunt, who arrived a few days ago from Constantinople; Mrs. Arthur Yates, a sister of Mrs. Morrow; and Miss Amy Aldrich, an intimate friend of the Morrow family.

When Lindbergh and his bride drove out through the big gate of the estate after the ceremony, they found the usual group of reporters and photographers waiting—unaware, however, that the marriage had taken place. He looked straight ahead but the young Mrs. Lindbergh flashed them a friendly, disarming smile. They had passed this group many times in days gone by and none of the cameras expected that they were actually married.

For the news that the reporters were waiting for was the date of the wedding. It had been reported that a difficult announcement would be made soon, settling the question that had come up time and again as to when and where the greatly publicized couple would wed. The concern was that the marriage was to take place at the Morrow summer home in North Haven, Maine, about June 10.

Formal announcement of the marriage was not made until 6:45 p. m. when Ambassador Morrow's secretary telephoned a brief statement to press associations and newspapers in New York.

The marriage license was made out in the Morrow home by John A. Manson of the Englewood Board of Health on last Saturday, the second anniversary of Lindbergh's landing in Paris on his historic flight. The Rev. Dr. Brown, who performed the ceremony, is an old friend of Ambassador Morrow.

The marriage of Lindbergh and Miss Morrow began in Mexico City December 1927, when the world's premier flier dropped down there in his plane, "The Spirit of St. Louis," on his good-will tour of Central America, re-

315,000 Visit New York Each Day In Summer

Summer Vacationers Spend
Five Million Daily
In Metropolis

HOTELS RECEIVE
THE LION'S SHARE

By HOMER H. METZ
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

NEW YORK, May 28.—How many visitors from other cities register at New York hotels during the "vacation months" of spring and summer? A recent interview granted International News Service by officials of the New York Hotel Owners association revealed some surprising facts in connection with this question.

First came the statement that approximately 315,000 out-of-town visitors affix their names to hotel registers in the metropolis every day during the months of June, July, August and September.

These figures, of course, are swelled considerably on days and week-ends when conventions are held here.

Daily Spending
Next, came the assertion that, according to reliable estimates, approximately $5,000,000 is paid into the coffers of metropolitan business men daily by the influx of summer vacationers. Thus, if it held the year round, would be at the rate of $2,125,000,000 annually. How much is paid by visitors to the railroads for transportation to New York from their home cities can only be guessed at.

The hotels, naturally, get the lion's share of this daily flood of provincial dollars. There are about 20 first class hostels in New York City proper and it can easily be figured that each one of them must take in more than $200,000 a day as a result of the summer trade.

The huge majority of the spring and summer tourists to Manhattan come from the Middle West and South, it was said.

Contrary to general belief, the cities of these sections and not the rural districts, furnish the most New York sight-seers.

Chicago, Ill., and St. Louis, Mo., are at the top of the list in this respect. The hotel owners report that more than 5 per cent of their incoming guests register from the Windy City. Slightly less than 41 per cent come from the Mount City.

Atlanta Leads
Atlanta, Ga., leads among the cities of the South. Incidentally, an interesting sidelight on the flow of metropolitan visitors from Atlanta is the fact that the average length of time they remain here is less than it is in the case of people from other centers. Atlantans apparently are disappointed at the lack of sunny geniality to which they are accustomed in New York.

The average summer tourist remains in New York about two weeks, the hotel owners declare, and during his visit he makes a thorough round of the city, which is to say he visits the Woolworth tower, the Aquarium, the Fifth Avenue shops and, of course, the Broadway White Light district.

Coincidental with these revelations by the Hotel Owners association is the declaration by owners of sight-seeing buses that their business virtually triples itself in volume during the summer months.

In addition to being head of her class scholastically she is a talented musician and is a member of the school orchestra.

Two years ago she won a silver cup at her farm exhibit at the state show in Harrisburg.

Troop Will Aid On Memorial Program

Members of Troop F, 103rd Cavalry, N. G. P., will take part in the Memorial Day exercises Thursday.

Capt. Walter has ordered all members of the troop to appear at the Armory on Neshannock avenue promptly at nine o'clock Thursday morning in full summer uniform. They will occupy a place of honor in the parade to the theater and cemetery.

In 1918, North Webster made an address to farmers in which he referred to "the art of draining wet lands, which is now in its infancy in this country."

Kidnapping Cases Rouse French Ire

Frenchman Unsuccessful In Adopting Tactics Of American Father

(International News Service)
PARIS, May 28.—The next American millionaire who "kidnaps" his own children in France will find himself in trouble.

Justice withheld action when Frank O. Woodward, American jelly king, drove up to a private school in the Passy district, picked up his son and daughter and rushed them back to New York where he intended to sue for divorce.

Where he succeeded Professor Jean Corot, a Frenchman, has failed. Not only were his two children re-kidnapped by Mme. Corot in London, where he had taken them, but the professor was sentenced to default to eight months imprisonment and fined $800.

Woodward merely used the direct method of taking the children and depending solely on speedy transportation to carry them out of the country.

Professor Corot was more intriguing. Foreseeing that Mme. Corot would give pursuit when three hirelings snatched the children from her on the sidewalk, he had a woman friend decoy the wife by coming up with an automobile and offering to help her.

Mme. Corot kept up the chase, broke into her husband's house in London with two detectives, took back the children and returned with them to Paris where she preferred charges.

Barber Enforces No Woman Rule

COLUMBUS, O., May 28.—J. S. Van Heyde, a barber here for the past half century, refuses to allow women to enter his shop.

He says women are prone to procrastinate making up their minds what they want and how they want it done, and that men haven't time to wait.

But Van Heyde continued: Then, too, men want to tell a story or two, smoke a cigar or cigarette, and engage in conversation they wouldn't be able to if women were in the shop.

Never yet in all history have the common people scorned moral laws obeyed by the rich.

THE LOONS' MARATHON.

Such a hullabaloo as the Loons were making. Peter laughed at their antics but felt like putting his fingers in his ears to keep out the sound of their shouting.

"In a moment now those Loons are going to start something," declared Father Wild Gander. "They always go on like this when they are making ready. They are talking so fast I can't quite make out what they are saying but no doubt they are deciding who is to start the race. Ah! I thought so! Look! The Loons are lining up. Now what is that for I wonder?"

The boy could scarcely believe what his own eyes showed him. For lining up the Loons certainly were and in a row that was straight and long. He exclaimed aloud:

"Do you suppose those Loons can count? It looks to me as though they were taking their places about ten feet apart. Just look at the spaces between each one. They couldn't have been more regular if they had been measured with a rule."

Father Gander gave a scornful honk.

"Until this moment if it had not been for the shape of you I should not have known but what you belonged to the feathered folk but that last remark of yours tells plainly enough that you are a Two-Legs."

"You doubt anything being done right if it is not done in the Two-Legs way. Now I don't know what a rule is and neither I dare say, does a Loon and yet you mark my words! Those Loons have some way of measuring the space between them or they couldn't do it so perfectly. Their way is as good as yours—you just said so yourself."

The boy didn't intend to argue with Father Gander. He was too much interested in what was going on before him for one thing.

"Of course Father Wild Gander, I quite agree with you," said he. "What do you think those two fellows are swimming away down to the end of that line for?"

"I shouldn't wonder if those are the two Loons who have been selected to race first," answered Gander stretching his neck the better to see things.

"Right, father!" cried Tommy Gander who hadn't let a thing escape his bright eyes. "There! The two have reached the end of the line and are waiting. My feathers! What can the matter be! Not a Loon is making a sound!"

Nor was there. After the hubbub the sudden silence was startling. It was not to last long however. "Ha-ha-ha-coo!" At the signal these two Loons who had been waiting started off. In a perfect cloud of foam they tore down the line and they not only used their feet but they flapped their wings to give them speed.

Knife Cuts Out Radium Swallowed By Woman

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Mrs. Sylvia as a result of an operation Arthur M. Huey, wife of the senior to remove a piece of radium she advised president of the Philadelphia Electric company is in the Graduate hospital of the University of Penna. The accident occurred two weeks ago when Mrs. Huey was undergoing treatment which required the insertion of radium encased in a tiny capsule in her nose. It slipped, loosed when Mrs. Huey suddenly inhaled and she swallowed the particle said to be valued at $2,500.

Immediate steps were taken to remove it. At half-hour intervals X-Ray pictures were taken and when the radium was located an operation was performed.

Austin about three weeks ago near

First Commercial Ocean Flight Planned

Up to the present time all the trans-Atlantic flights have been made more as a test to see whether the feat were feasible than with a commercial plan. The giant Rostrach plane,
"Rostra," top, however, will take off soon from Lisbon, Portugal, on a purely commercial flight from Portugal to the United States. It is planned to carry freight and mail to a totalof 2,000 pounds on the trip. There will be a crew of five, among whom Miss Mildred Johnson, right, will act as the supercargo. If the plane is successful on the route via Cape Verdi and the Barbados, as shown on the map above, it is planned to maintain the service on a regular basis.

A large crowd of students townspeo-

RIDDLE

WHO ARE THEY?
Just once a year we visit here.
Three old time chums are we:
The first to come is most too young
To chum with two and three.
But number three is older, see?
Than number one or two.
But tho' his age is very great,
He brings good cheer to you.

The first to come is very plump.
Because of memories sad;
The second comes with beating drums,
And makes our nation glad.
But we believe the third old chum,
The dearest one by far;
For all the world doth honor him,
And scatter gifts afar.

FIVE OLD TIMERS
BEFORE THE MAYOR

In answering a call to the Taylor
Spring district, near Division street, last night, the police gathered in five members of the old timers white line gang, that once upon a time, made the city jail their headquarters most of the time. They were in preparation of a feast of "canned heat" or some other similar concoction, but were still sober when the police arrived. They were all discharged by the mayor this morning.

Frank Jerry Makes Great Run In Capital Marathon

Frank Jerry, Harbor street, well known Pennsylvania Railroad operator, and a long distance runner for some years, having made his first start in the long distance racing many years ago, when The News held its marathon event, carried the name and fame of himself and this city into national prominence at Washington, D. C. Saturday, when he participated in the annual National Amateur Fifteen Mile Marathon event held there on that day.

In a field of eighty starters, including some of the finest athletes in the country and from every part of the country, Jerry finished eighth and in the record time of one hour and thirty-eight seconds, averaging a mile in every 6.53 minutes, a remarkable record in itself.

The winner, Arthur Gavrin of the University of New York, was but eight minutes ahead of Jerry in finishing and he was somewhat in the lead of the man finishing second, Willie Kyronen of the Melrose A. C. New York, was second and William Agge, United States Army, former 15 mile champion, was third.

Jerry stood thirty-eighth at the five mile mark and had gone into fourth position at the twelve mile mark, but was unable to finish better than eighth, which however is a remarkable exhibit of running ability in considering that he was up against the very best long distance runners in the United States. Sixty-five of the eighty starters finished.

Mr. Jerry will go to Pittsburgh Memorial Day, where he will participate in the annual ten mile modified marathon event to be held there. He has won this event on occasions in the past and his friends are boosting for him to be a winner this time. He is unattached and carried the name of New Castle in all his competitions at the present time.

Trade School Has Display Of Work

Products Made By Boys Are Shown In Downtown Exhibit

What is being done by the trade school boys of the Benjamin Franklin Junior high school is ably demonstrated today in the store room formerly occupied by the Ewing Shoe company at the corner of East Washington street and Neshannock avenue. A display of products made by the boys is being shown and is well worth the time of anyone to step in and view it.

Blue prints drawn by the youngsters, tables, book racks and foot rests made by them. Desks and other articles of wood that are far beyond what one might expect from boys. In addition there is a display of vices, jacks, punches, screw drivers and dozens of small steel articles that have been made by them.

The display is in charge of James Lewis of the trade school and will be open to the public this afternoon, tonight and all day Wednesday until 5 o'clock p. m.

All of the articles are made in such a fashion that they could easily be passed for the work of professionals. The display is more than ordinarily interesting and should be attended by thousands. There is no admission price.

Tourists Find Improvement In French Hotels

Comfort And Efficiency Now
Found In Institutions
In Larger Cities

FRENCH WOMEN ARE GREATEST READERS

By ALICE LANGELEIR
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

PARIS, May 28.—American visitors to France this summer will not be obliged to grumble too loudly at the inconveniences of French hotels in small as well as large centers.

Such great improvement has been made within the last few years that their comfort and efficient management may now be envied by many other countries. There is not a town of 80,000 or more inhabitants in France now that has not its first-class hotel on which large sums of money have been spent in bringing it up-to-date.

The celebrated Hotel de la Cite at Carcassonne, one of the finest in Europe, housed 18,000 people last year, although the minimum price is five dollars per day and there are many small but clean hotels in the village. One at Tours registered 35,000 and another in Avignon 23,000.

It is interesting to notice that in recent years, French hotels which were formerly mostly run by foreigners, are now chiefly in the hands of Frenchmen who are learning the psychology of hotel-keeping and how to please every nationality which comes to them.

French women read far more than the men, according to recent observations made in the Paris suburbs. At the midday and evening business rush-hours, almost every woman has her eyes in a book, usually carried in a fancy leather protector and she reads it unceasingly all during her under-ground journey. These books are generally good literature, the works of Anatole France, Paul Bourget, or a modern author such as Andre Maurois. One is sometimes surprised to see an apparently superior type of woman breathlessly following the pages of a cheap novelette.

The men, almost without exception, are reading newspapers, even the conductor, who picks up his journal between stations.

Other observations in the "metro" show that the Parisians are not as neat as he might be, and that only eight passengers out of one hundred throw their used tickets in the wire receptacles intended for them. About forty-four of the same number let them drop anywhere around the waste-basket and the remainder of the hundred wait until they get to the streets and scatter them about.

Taxi Driver Fined For Bad Language

CHICAGO, May 26.—A new charge was uncovered in police court here when Louis Smith, taxi-driver, was fined $50 for "language unbecoming a taxi-driver." The language in question was addressed to a traffic policeman but was not revealed in the courtroom.

A few minutes later, Charles Center, Case, attorney, was discharged without a fine after confessing that he had called a traffic policeman a
"dummy." Court followers are speculating on what Smith must have said.

ALDERMAN OFFICIATES
Miss Lenore Chateau and Arthur
Vines, both of New Castle, were united in marriage by Alderman O. H. P.

The Way OF THE World

By GROVE PATTERSON

CHANCES

The Roman Prize, amounting to $8,000, is awarded to an art student,
22 years old, who worked his way through the Yale art school by waiting on tables. His home is in South Carolina. The eight thousand dollars will enable him to study abroad for three years. Young men go on fretting about their lack of chance, their lack of opportunity, their lack of a "break." Of what good is a "break"
if you have no determination to work, no perseverance, no ambition, no willingness to sacrifice little pleasures for greater goods later on? In this life of astonishing material progress there are a hundred chances for every one that grandfather had—yes, a thousand chances. But you have to be good—good for something.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Remember the days when a poor family down by the railroad track lived in a discarded box car? Somebody observes a family near Berlin living in a cast-off airplane. And if the family gets tired of the scenery they can hitch a horse to the plane and haul it into new landscapes. Our ability to accustom ourselves to novelties is keen. Soon we shall see junk piles full of airplanes and airplane parts and think nothing of it.
Nothing is new—long.

AIR MAIL

Don't get the idea that just a handful of letters go by plane. At least eight tons of mail are transported by planes daily in the United States right now.

RE-EDUCATION

Dr. Hugh Kerr, president of the Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, says ministers ought to be re-educated. Pretty late for that.
Usually too late to re-educate anybody. Men can be useful after 35 or 40 but they will not adopt many new habits. Better not waste much time on re-educating. Better give much time to educating a new crop.

Mrs. W. J. Allen and Mrs. Mary A.

Friday afternoon.

THE TRANSGRESSOR

The motion picture "The Transgressor" by James K. Shields was shown at the Methodist church on last Thursday evening. The Transgressor is the life story of two men whose experiences were strangely interwoven from their chummy boy-hood days. The picture was shown at the White Chapel church on Friday evening.

PURCHASE HOME

Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Miller of near Volant have purchased the Boyd home

GASOLINE KILLS 1500

RATTLESNAKES ON RANCH
(International News Service)
YAKIMA, Wash., May 28.—Sheep herders on the Slide ranch in the White Swan district counted 1500 dead rattlesnakes after using 40 gallons of gasoline and two boxes of dynamite in a war of extermination.
The reptiles had multiplied until they had infested all pasture land, it was stated.

Mark Pendell, forestry supervisor at Fort Simcoe, made a high record of 175 rattlers killed in less than an hour.

It isn't as bad as the headlines make it appear. Most of the people you know never have killed anybody.

than any other physical quality."

To keep their skin really lovely for the screen, nine out of ten screen stars use Lux Toilet Soap. In Hollywood, of the 451 important actresses, including all stars, 442 care for their skin with this daintily fragrant white soap. And all the great film studios have made it the of-

You'll love the way it leaves your skin

Rockefeller Purchases Eastview New York For Enhancing His Estate

Citizens Of Historic Revolutionary War Town Pack Up And Move Away

Rockefeller Estate At Tarrytown New York Now Totals 8,000 Acres

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN, International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, May 28.—The historic village of Eastview, N. Y., adjacent to Tarrytown, was today in the process of being wiped off the map so that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., may take possession on June 1 of property he purchased three months ago for $825,000.

With heavy hearts the old time residents who reluctantly sold their homes and belongings were making ready to embark on the disintegration of a community founded 16 years before the revolution.

Mr. Rockefeller will raze all the houses, stores and barns and annex the acreage to his big Tarrytown estate. It is understood he will put bridge paths and flower gardens in the new property and use part of it to extend his golf course. With Eastview included his estate will consist of 8,000 acres.

All the old-timers, many of them there a generation "hate to leave." Some of them already have gone, with no little misgiving in their hearts. John P. Brown whose family held a substantial parcel of land in Eastview for seven generations has moved away. Some of the very old residents still call Eastview "Brown's Corners." Brown's home is 100 years old.

One of the most reluctant to leave is Mrs. Jane Connor who has conducted a little grocery store in Eastview for a lifetime. She moves out this week. Another old-time resident, Edgar T. Baker is building a home at Briarcliff.

An auction was held Monday at the home of Henry P. Paulding whose ancestor, John Paulding helped to capture Major Andre. He said his furnishings did not part with his treasured historical relics such as the black felt hat with cockade and silver braids worn by John Paulding who assisted in the capture of Andre.

Virtually one hundred families are affected by Mr. Rockefeller's purchase that were presented by the Lawrence Savings and Trust Company.

The following received thrift diplomas with two stars for saving six years: Concetta DiCola of grade 6A and Frank Morella of grade 6B.

The following received honorable mention certificates for saving one year: Myron Tunstall, Bobbie Hamilton, Rosie Lavella, Irene Pauline and Elvera Pauline of grade 1A; Annie Pliml and Arthur Stefano of grade 1B; Jack Dunlap and Veretta Moore of grade 2A; Frank McVee, George Miller and Maxine Bigley of grade 2B; Frances Jane Connor, Margaret Naples and Tressa Marrese of grade 4A; Mabel Barr, Sara J. ## Days' Prayer In Congress

The Rev. Hugh T. Stevenson, pastor of the Bethany Baptist Church, Washington, D. C., offered the following prayer:
Almighty God, our Father, we draw near Thee this morning to thank Thee for the blessings that Thou hast given us, for Thy watchful care and protection in the night. We rejoice in the privilege of another day of service. We ask that Thou give unto us the leadership of the Holy Spirit, so that we may glorify Thee in our work here, and we ask Thy blessing to rest upon all connected with our country.
Great that in the line of promotion and peace and good will among all people we may follow Thy leadership. We ask Thee to help us to do Thy will and perform the tasks that Thou hast assigned to us today. Aid us with Thy strength. For Thy glory we ask it. Amen.

OLD BEFORE HER TIME

Nervous Breakdown Changes Pretty Young Wife Into Pillable Invalid

Mrs. A. Russell, industry, Pa., who has now entirely recovered her health and happiness, tells her astonishing experience in the following letter:
"I was reared in the country," she says, "and until we moved to town I was always a picture of health. We had good, plain food, mostly grown right on our own place, and the canned and packaged substitutes some town people have to put up with. They call such things food but it seems to me that all the life giving power of real food is lost from some of them, in the canning and packing houses where they are canned or manufactured. Shortly after we moved to town I was married. I was happy for a little while. But a few years of living here, as the food and climate did not agree with me, weakened my nervous system. I had terrible headaches, followed by sleepless nights, when I would toss and toss in pain. I grew thinner and weaker each day. I would break out in sudden perspiration, without any reason at all. My hands trembled so bad I spilled my food when I tried to eat.
"Naturally my married life was a failure. I could not give my good husband the love he craved and deserved. Black doubts and fears took hold of my mind. I became suspicious of every one. I distrusted even my own husband and falsely imagined he was unfaithful. It was he who saved me when everything was at its worst. One night he brought home a bottle of World's Tonic—the new remedy compounded from roots and herbs grown in their natural state and gathered from different parts of the world. I wondered powers of natural plants are preserved in World's Tonic. I continued taking it and at the end of a few weeks I was well again like I had been in the country. Our married life is now happier than I ever dreamed it could be. I owe it all to World's Tonic."
World's Tonic is on sale at McKee's Kut Rate Store, Eokert's of New Castle, Inc., Paisley's, Smith's and other modern drug stores. (A-76)

Baltimore Cutter To Be Restored

River Chaser, Once Deemed Too Slow, Restored To Service Again

(International News Service)
BALTIMORE, May 28.—The Retriever's frame once more will vibrate from her propeller as she sails ahead of a well-churned wake.
The Retriever was built and launched in the Great Lakes to pursue rum runners from her Detroit base. Her fourteen-knots an hour speed was too slow and the government placed her on the auction block. She changed hands several times and finally became property of "bad owners." She proved too slow for them, too, on one occasion, and was seized by the government with contraband liquor as her cargo.
Local customs officials were looking around for a craft the size of the Retriever, 40 feet long, 10 feet wide and 13 feet deep. They wanted her to keep small rum runners in Maryland's water on the jump.
Against all the odds a veteran ship of the water may have, the Retriever was hoisted bodily from the Great Lakes, placed on a Baltimore and Ohio freight car and brought here to start her service anew.

Senate Votes To Investigate Big Textile Strikes

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, May 28.—The senate, after a three-day session today, voted six to five to recommend that congress send a committee to investigate wages and working conditions in textile mills throughout the country.
This reversed its previous decision to allow the federal trade commission to make the inquiry.
The original resolution provided for an investigation only in the southern strike-stricken districts of the industry, but southern senators insisted that the inquiry be extended to take in the textile industry of the whole country.

DUNCANNON, Pa., May 28.—A deer leaped through the kitchen window of the home of Mrs. Leanne Baum here, May 28, when she was 78, and lives alone, was so frightened that she had to receive medical attention.
The deer swam the Susquehanna river from the east shore, crossed railroad tracks and explored several streets until it reached Mrs. Baum's back yard. Then, screaming frightfully, it leaped through her window into the kitchen in a shower of flying glass. The animal escaped from the house, leaving Mrs. Baum helpless from shock and fright.

Danger Lurks In Summer Camp Drinking Water

With the coming of nice weather the average citizen is thinking of summer camps secluded among a clump of pine trees, close to a brook. And with summer camps summer springs and in the latter lurks danger according to Howard B. Richards, superintendent of the New Castle Water company.

"Few springs are free from contamination," said Mr. Richards. "They may appear to be clear and sparkling, but the water may be cold and taste good, but in rare instances is the water safe to drink."

Particularly is this true in the more segregated camp districts or where there is a lot of transient travel. Garbage tossed on the ground, filth of all kinds is washed into the ground and makes its way to the spring stream and becomes a part of the water that is drunk.

"I would urge every camper to boil the water he drinks," said Mr. Richards. "This is a simple operation and while the taste of boiled water is not as pleasant as water fresh from the spring, it is the course of wisdom and safety. In the past five years many of the favorite springs in this county have been tested and found to be contaminated. In some instances people have complained about the condemnation, but in no case has the state condemned a spring that was pure."

"On motor trips a traveler is unwise to drink from a spring that is along the roadside. Appearance or taste is no criterion and unless the state health department has posted the spring as safe, it is better to go thirsty for a while and wait until one gets to a supply of pure water."

Camper would do well to heed the advice of Mr. Richards, who is an authority on water supply. The incident of a year or so ago when five people died from drinking contaminated water at a camp near Lawrence county is still fresh. Such things can be avoided by the simple procedure of boiling the water and killing the germs.

East Side Library Branch Has Large Book Circulation

Over 1,000 Books Borrowed
Each Week From New Branch Library

Five hundred books are being borrowed each Wednesday and Saturday at the New Castle public library's East Side branch, according to the statement of the librarian today.

The new branch, which was but recently organized in the basement of the Third United Presbyterian church on East Washington street, has been breaking all expected circulation figures.

On Wednesday of the past week, 688 books left the library; on Saturday, 413 books were borrowed by citizens of the community.

These are average figures, making the circulation of the new branch more than 1,000 volumes each week. More than 100 new books were added to the branch the other day and this brings the total in the library to more than 1,500.

A sign is being erected over the door leading to the basement where a special room has been constructed to house the branch.

Ambassador Job Easy Compared To His New Task

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, May 28.—"The job of being an ambassador is easy compared with the job of being a lawyer."

This was the only comment that Ambassador Dwight W. Morrow would make here today about the marriage of his daughter, Anne, and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh late yesterday.

The decision to have the wedding extremely quiet and private was pleasing to both the Ambassador and Mrs. Morrow. They desired to avoid the ostentation of a formal wedding as much as did their son-in-law and daughter.

Another Will Be Held This Evening In An Effort To Speed Up The Case

In order to facilitate the trial of the case of Miss Jane Ligo against Ida B. Dobson, Judge Chambers held a night session of court last night and will hold another this evening. It was thought that by doing this there might be some possibility of getting through with the case by Memorial Day, but it is doubtful if the arguments and charges of the court can be made before that time. It is likely that the better part of a day will be consumed in arguments and in the charge of the court.

Miss Jane Ligo who was on the witness stand yesterday was permitted to give her testimony which had to be excluded at the former trial and upon which exclusion a new trial was granted. Her testimony related largely to her relations with Mrs. Dean while nurse and companion.

Other witnesses examined yesterday afternoon, last night and this morning were W. Walter Braham, Eleanor Madden, Mrs. Nellie Madgen, Mabel Rockwell, Mrs. Rockwell, J. E. Griffith, Fanny Goodman, Thomas J. Madden, Nellie Barber, E. P. Dean, Charles Dean, B. F. Moorhead and David Valensi.

Moorhead and Valensi both testified that they did not believe the will and signature were in the handwriting of Mrs. Dean. Mr. Moorhead, who has been for many years connected with the J. J. Dean Wholesale company, had seen many samples of Mrs. Dean's handwriting.

Mr. Valensi, who is connected with the Peoples Savings and Trust Co., also claimed to be familiar with Mrs. Dean's handwriting. He went over the body of the will at length pointing out letters which he claimed led him to the belief that they were not made by Mrs. Dean.

Need Professional Advice Before Using Reducers

"It was to be expected that in this electrical age, contrivances would be developed to take the heart out of exercise. And so it has come to pass that vibrating machines and reducers are now offered in many attractive models to those of middle age or more who are over-weight or under-weight," said Dr. Theodore B. Appel, State Secretary of Health, today.

The advantages of this type of contrivance are plain. Instead of putting the heart violently to work, the electrical motor accomplishes much the same physical result with practically no strain on the heart muscle. But there are other matters to be considered in this connection also.

"In the analysis all machines of the type under discussion are valuable largely as a therapeutic agent. And this, therefore, automatically calls for professional advice before one submits himself to its use. It is indeed a mistake for anyone to prescribe a course of vibrating for himself, or indeed any other form of exercise when one is past forty or forty-five, without first receiving the approval of a physician who intimately knows one's physical condition."

Use Plane To Hunt Walrus And Caribou

Chicago Expedition Seeks Rare Specimens From Northland

By WALTER HURST
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, May 28.—Into the desolate far north by land, water and air, Bruce Thorne of Chicago, and George Coe Graves II of New York, sons of prominent families, will lead a hazardous expedition this summer in quest of rare specimens of walrus and caribou for the Field Museum here. The two also are financing the venture.

The party will sail June 19 from Seattle aboard the schooner Dorothy. It is expected they will be compelled to cruise in icy waters as far north as Wrangell Island.

In announcing the undertaking, Stephen C. Simms, director of the museum, explained the walrus is one of the hardest animals to prepare for preservation, and no specimens ever have been satisfactorily mounted.

To overcome this difficulty, the hunters will take along John Jones, an expert taxidermist. It is planned to mount the group in life-like attitudes at the midnight sun and the fields of floating floes.

The second stage of the expedition will entail an overland trip across Alaska from Nome to Fairbanks, to reach the caribou hunting ground. It is in this part of the trek that the airplane will be utilized.

A FURTHER SERVICE TO OWNERS OF ALEMITE-EQUIPPED CARS

Genuine Alemite Lubricants—Developed By Alemite Specially for Use in Alemite High Pressure Lubricating Systems—Are Used By the Alemite-ing Stations Listed Below

THE Alemite Systems provide your car with the means to Proper Lubrication. For they force lubricant, under tremendous pressure, to every vital chassis bearing on your car.

But—merely forcing lubricants to those bearings is not enough. You must use the right kind of lubricant. Cheap, unknown "greases" are relatively as dangerous as no lubrication at all.

Because scores of such "greases" were suddenly offered on every side as "fitted to the Alemite Systems"—many of them of such poor quality that it is virtually impossible to force them into the bearings to be lubricated—the makers of the Alemite Systems, in protection to themselves and the public, developed special lubricants for use in the Alemite Systems.

Those lubricants come as the result of years of experiment. They mark the latest automotive science, known as chassis lubrication. They were developed by the ALEMITE people themselves in

If the maker of your car directs that special lubricants be used in universal joint and wheel bearings, ask your dealer for these approved special Alemite Lubricants:

- 4—Alemite Wheel Bearing Lubricant—Will lubricate wheel bearings correctly and is heavy enough so that it will not throw into brake drums and cause brake trouble.

Paris Alderman To Imitate New York
Would Further Modernize French Metropolis After New York Style
(International News Service)
PARIS, May 28.—"Will a little child lead them?" is what political wiseacres at the City Hall are asking about Y. Georges Prade, aged 25, the youngest alderman in France, who says his ambition is to make Paris like New York.

Prade recently made his debut in politics by defeating a Communist. On the aftermath of his election he said that he would fight to further modernize Paris.

"This City should be more like New York," he asserted. "Reserve urban byways for business and encourage Parisians to live in the suburbs. Traffic regulations is inadequate. Street surfaces must be speedways. Underground passages are necessary for pedestrians."

Prade is alderman for the "City Universitaire" ward, so called because of the international dormitories, including one for America, where Sorbonne students live.

when she noticed she had acquired several men's handkerchiefs. They were rather nice looking "hankies" and it seemed a shame not to use them for something, she thought. Then out of a clear sky came the big idea, that has caused a great drain on the "hankies" of the men students of the university.

Russia To Get Industries On American Plan

American Organization Methods And Machinery Sought

NEW GOVERNMENT COPIES U. S. STANDARDS

By BURL A. ELY
International News Service Staff Correspondent
DETROIT, May 28.—American industrialization of Russia and the development of that country's agriculture through the introduction of American implements and methods are visions that within a few years may become realities.
These possibilities and an intimation that the construction of a $4,000,000 tractor plant in southern Russia is only the beginning of an intense five-year industrial program which may involve the investment of more than $100,000,000 were visualized here by Mortiz Kahn, vice president of Albert Kahn, Inc., which has been retained by the Russian government as architect for the tractor plant.
Five Year Program
The five-year program, Kahn intimated, may result in an astounding transformation of Russia. It may see industries for the production of iron and steel, machine tools, cotton, textiles, chemicals, clothing, leather, food products and building materials popping up all over Russia.

The present program which has been undertaken is that for the construction of a plant located at Stalingrad near the mouth of the Volga, with a production capacity of 40,000 tractors annually, an automobile plant calling for the production of 100,000 cars annually and a motor truck plant with a production capacity of 10,000 three-ton trucks.
A study of the Russian situation, Kahn said, reveals promising opportunities.

The general trend of exports, he said, show that America, which itself is comparable to Russia inasmuch as its natural resources and domestic markets are similar, is becoming to play a more prominent part in the European country.
"Obviously, Russia will try to develop along American lines and will look to America as her example," Kahn said.

Progress To Follow
Since Russia and America are comparable, it is evident that Russia's progress will follow along the same lines as has America's. Consequently Russia will need those industries and products manufactured by Americans.
Exporting figures, Kahn pointed, are being supplied by American exports into that country.

It is believed, according to Kahn, that Russia, already a great agricultural country but far behind other countries insofar as productivity per acre is concerned, will step out into the front ranks of agricultural countries with the introduction of modern farm implements and methods.

Kahn said that Russia's backwardness in agricultural development heretofore has been due "not to antiquity of equipment but to lack of equipment."

"Russia is primarily an agricultural country and for some time to come yet she must look upon agriculture as the base upon which her development is to be constructed," Kahn said.

For Breakfast

—the best meal of the day

Breakfast follows the longest fast 'round the clock. No wonder you want something good! No wonder you turn to Heinz Rice Flakes—for you know they're good!

Dainty flakes of rice. Rolled thin as tissue. Toasted to a golden-brown. Crisp as an autumn day. And—that flavor! Nut-meats? No—better than that. Pop-corn? No—better still. Good. Just plain, honest-to-goodness good!

And good for you, too. Yes indeed, for Heinz Rice Flakes are the result of a special patented, Heinz process which transforms the natural roughage element of the rice into a pure, edible cellulose. This gives the flakes the healthful qualities of a gentle, natural laxative.

Isn't it great to eat a good-for-you breakfast that tastes good to eat?

A Woman Scorned

Editor Of Chicago Magazine Fights Return To Chain Gang

By ROY J. GIBBONS
Central Press Staff Writer
CHICAGO, May 28.—Old Khayyam, the tentmaker, supplies the moral of this story of a man whose past caught up with him, stripped him of reputation and prosperity and dragged him down.

"The moving finger writes and having writ
Moves on, nor all your piety nor wit
Shall lure it back to cancel half a line.
Nor all your tears wash out a word of it."

Honorably discharged from the army in 1919, after winning a wound and a citation for bravery in action, Robert Elliot Burns found himself broke and hungry in an Atlanta, Ga., flophouse. Urged on by starvation he and two companions robbed a grocery, obtaining $4. They were captured and sentenced to from six to 10 years at hard labor.

Served Three Months

A chain was riveted to Burns' leg and he was put to work on the state highways from sun-up to sun-down and chained to other convicts in the camps at night. In 1922, after serving three months time, he escaped with the aid of a friendly convict who swung a sledge hammer at his iron ankle while it was held against the end of a railroad tie.

That was the past that caught up with Robert Elliot Burns, the skeleton in his closet, that rattled and brought down retribution on his head. Of course, it was a woman that opened the closet door, a woman scorned.

After his escape Burns arrived in Chicago, penniless. He got a job in the stockyards as a laborer for a week. Then, in a new second-hand suit, he became a clerk. Today, seven years after the sledge blow was struck that set him free he is the editor and publisher of the Greater Chicago magazine. He has lived straight ever since. The friendship of influential citizens are his—and success.

But there was a woman scorned. Mrs. Emily Pacheco, a widow, 18 years his senior. Burns roomed with her when he worked in the stockyards. She learned of his prison record from a letter he received from his father, who was trying to get a pardon for his son.

Mrs. Pacheco let the ex-convict appreciate the importance of her knowledge. They were married in June, 1926. Burns charges he was coerced into the ceremony by fear of exposure.

Then the girl came to Chicago. She was studying violin and her name, she told Burns when they met at a dance, was Miss Lillian Salo. She was 22, or some 16 years younger than Burns.

Learns of Friendship

Mrs. Burns learned about Miss Salo's friendship with her husband. The Georgia authorities were notified that an escaped member of one of the state chain gangs was living in luxury in Chicago. Chicago police were notified. Burns was arrested. "We fell in love," Miss Salo told police, in speaking of her association with Burns. "He told me he was married and was arranging for a divorce. I didn't know about the sentence."

"If he has to go back to the chain gang, I'll wait for him." Burns' new friends, bankers, lawyers, manufacturers have banded together to do whatever they can for him. They say the ex-convict will have a host of character witnesses to aid in fighting extradition proceedings.

A woman scorned? Certainly she played her part in opening the door of the skeleton closet.

After the soft cushions of success and the respect of his friends and fellow men, the chain gang will be tenfold harder for Burns. Then there is the girl waiting. It is hard, terribly hard, but—

"The moving finger writes . . . nor all your tears wash out a word of it."

PARIS, May 28.—Howard, the Prince De Sagan, 19-year-old son of the Duchess De Talleyrand, formerly Anna Gould, died early today from the effects of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Prince De Sagan shot himself because of a thwarted romance. His parents had opposed his marriage to a young French girl he met while at school, maintaining he should remain single until he reached the age of 21.

"The speed with which Konjola worked absolutely amazed me," said Mr. William J. McDonald, 827 Merchant street, Pittsburgh. "I had taken but one bottle when my health troubles vanished. My system was again and my organs functioned splendidly. Gas bloating, a sour stomach and indigestion followed every meal. I had no appetite, pains centered in my lower bowels and I was nervous and lacked energy and pep. Konjola did all, and more, than is claimed for it. My stomach was corrected, my food digested, and all the after eating distress has

DRIVE IT THROUGH TRAFFIC

If YOU want a car that is easy to handle in traffic, come drive this finer Oldsmobile.

The moment you pull away from the curb, you'll realize that here is a car that will give you genuine pleasure to drive. The driving position is supremely comfortable, due to the Fisher adjustable front seat and the adjustable steering wheel. Controls and instruments are conveniently arranged. Gear-shift, clutch, and brakes are easy to reach and to operate. Response to the throttle is swift and smooth.

Your first experience at a signal light will tell you that here is getaway second to none—pick-up as stageless as that of an electric motor. And each succeeding trial will prove how readily this finer Oldsmobile flashes into the lead when the green light signals "go."

But there's more than getaway to driving in traffic—far more. Put Oldsmobile through its paces. Make opportunities for difficult tests deliberately. Note how easily and surely Oldsmobile glides through crowded streets. See how it straightens out, almost automatically, after turning corners. Observe how quickly you can stop. Good brakes are an essential safety factor for city driving. Oldsmobile's positive-acting four-wheel brakes are exceptionally efficient—and they are smooth, quiet, and easy to operate. Then try parking. The same fingertip steering and short turning radius that give you such sureness of control in driving make Oldsmobile easy to park, even in small spaces.

Just drive this finer Oldsmobile. Try it in traffic and on the open road. Make critical comparisons with other cars in its field. That's the only way to find out what it can do, and how it does it. That's the way to know every phase of its performance. That's the way to judge its value.

Slippery Rock May Get Letter Carrier

(Special To The News)
WASHINGTON, D. C., May 28.—Slippery Rock in the near future will have village mail delivery service if an appeal carried to the United States post office department by Congressman J. Howard Swick is acted upon favorably by that department. At the present Slippery Rock mail is delivered by rural carriers and until recently when mail was carried from New Castle by bus, train schedules made the delivery of postal goods by village service impossible. Schedules have been changed recently, however, and Congressman Swick feels that the town is entitled to village carrier service. The plan proposed to the post office department would result in the placing of one mail carrier in Slippery Rock who would make two deliveries daily throughout the town. Congressman Swick feels confident the village delivery which he requests will be extended to the town.

Stock Market On Way To Recovery

By W. S. COUSINS
International News Service Financial Editor
NEW YORK, May 28.—The stock market made some definite progress along the high road of recovery today, but only in a few of the outstanding strong spots was any of the lost ground recovered. With call money loaning at 5 per cent and time money a little easier, Wall Street detected the presence of the inevitable bargain hunter, buying stocks of the motor car, steel and other industrial companies which have fallen from 15 to 45 per cent in the last week or two. This investment buying was sufficient to cause an advance of 2 to 5 points in various parts of the list, but the movement was by no means uniform. Chrysler, in the motor group, sold off about 2 points at 7 1/2, while General Motors and Packard recovered a part of yesterday's losses.

City And County Confer On Plan To Take Care Of Water On Wilmington

Members of council and commissioners of Lawrence county today visited the New Wilmington highway and Wilmington, avenue section where a water problem has prevailed following each storm. They went there to ascertain what plan is best for the abatement of the damage nuisance. According to councilmen they found that engineers for the department of state highways had constructed a ditch which will permit the water to flow on the east side of the highway and avenue and which is bound to cause considerable damage. Yesterday when county commissioners met with councilmen they advocated the flow of the water through the gutters down Wilmington avenue. The council opposed this. This would be allowing the county to escape damage payments and the city would probably suffer the consequences, councilmen asserted. They broached a plan for the city and county to build a sewer from Sheridan avenue west the cost to be borne proportionately. As the situation now stands it is said the water will flow through the ditches across property and with the result in the county will be probably asked to pay damages. The engineers for the state took this course to get rid of the water.

Dog Racing In South Fighting For Court O. K.

Backers Of New Gambling Plan On Dog Racing To Make Test Case Of Action

SPORT IS ON LAST LEGS IN SOUTHLAND

ATLANTA, May 28.—Far reaching effect on dog racing in the south may result from the legal battle in which the Dixie Dog Racing association, with its plant at Union City an Atlanta suburb, is the central factor. Reopening in mid-April after being closed last year because of alleged gambling the tracks attracted more than 6,000 enthusiasts of the sport on the initial night and the grounds were jammed for nearly two weeks afterward until the profit-sharing system, inaugurated at the reopening, was attacked by authorities and an injunction was granted restraining the issuance of any tickets or coupons allowing patrons to receive cash or other prizes on the outcome of the races.

System Is Attacked. The profit-sharing system was something new. Patrons paid a general admission fee to the grounds. They were then allowed to purchase a series of five tickets to the grandstand for $2. With this grandstand coupon the buyer was entitled to register his ticket at a "prize" office, pick the dog and share in the profits should the chosen entry win, place or show. No race track allowance was permissible. You couldn't pick your dog to win or to place nor even show. It was either first, second or third prize that one desired.

But the authorities stepped in, branded the plant a nuisance and called the profit-sharing system gambling.

The races continued a night later attracted 1,500 pure lovers of the sport and then closed.

Will Take Appeal. But that by no means was the death knell according to C. H. Galt, president of the association.

"Of course we will abide by the court's decision," he said, "but the association will take the question to the supreme court and if necessary to the highest courts in the United States."

Meanwhile an estimated number of 10,000 followers of the sport in the Atlanta district await further developments in the case and are free to predict that a showdown for dog racing in the state and probably the south is near.

Gotham Haven For 7,000 Girls Yearly, Police Books Show

Average Age Of Wanderer Placed At 15 Years By Police

NEW YORK, May 28.—Girls are running away from home to New York city at the rate of 7,000 a year according to Capt. John Ayres head of the metropolitan bureau of missing persons.

The record of 7,000 last year was the largest in history declared Capt. Ayres and the average age at which they disappear is now 15 years a lower figure than ever before. Hollywood, Chicago, Boston and St. Louis all report similar conditions.

"The automobiles and the help wanted columns in big city newspapers have made it easier than ever for young girls to run away," said Capt. Ayres "but they are not entitled as they used to be."

Station agents, police matrons and all kinds of refugees and lodging houses are more astute than ever before and it is becoming easier for them to detect runaway girls and report them. In many cases taxicab drivers, wise to the ways of runaways have driven them directly to police station instead of taking them to addresses asked.

Enumerating the cases for which the 7,000 girls last year ran away from home Capt. Ayres listed over-chaperoning, unloving atmosphere in the family, poverty and even incompatible home furnishings.

Crowded Cities Are Blamed For Cynics

(International News Service) ATLANTA, May 28.—Crowded living conditions created by close herding in cities and life in apartment and tenement houses are making cynics out of children and restless natures out of grownups. In the opinion of Dr. J. S. Plant director of the Essex county juvenile clinic of Newark, N. J., here recently attending the convention of the American Psychiatric association.

Children turn their cynicism toward their parents, toward sex, toward the more cultural aspects of life in general with a consequent grave loss both for the parents and the child, Dr. Plant observes after many years study of that phase of psychiatry.

France Offers Temptations To Teuton Visitors

"Dan Spricht Deutsch" Sign
Now Appears In Windows Of French
Shops

SIGNS OF HATRED NOW DISAPPEARING

PARIS, May 28.—The large number of Germans who form the vanguard of the early tourists arriving in France, have induced some of the French shopkeepers and restaurateurs to add a third language to the signs in their windows, indicating that "Dan Spricht Deutsch" (German is spoken here).

If there is any war feeling still dormant, it is well-disguised, for the Frenchman, to all appearances, likes the German tourist who understands his journey in methodical fashion and knows exactly what he wants to see.

Like Good Food
"And, although always careful about the prices, does where there is good food and likes plenty of it."

The German influx is attributed to the many newly-organized tours between Germany and France. Many of them come all the way from Berlin by autobus. After sightseeing in the capital they drive on to the Riviera, Brittany and Italy.

Germans are in a majority among the early tourists, while Americans run them a close second. English, Spaniards and Scandinavians tie for third place, with South Americans for fourth.

Faster Real Trains
American visitors arriving at Cherbourg will soon find to their great delight that the journey from this port to the capital is little longer than the short ride from Le Havre, which probably induces many of them to use the French line home.

Experiments made by the French State railway proved that the newest type of oil-burning locomotive can make the entire run in three hours and 15 minutes, exclusive of stops at Caen and Nantes, maintaining an average speed of 70 miles per hour.

As soon as certain modifications in the tracks are completed, the ultra-fast trains will be run regularly between Cherbourg and Paris.

EDUCATION SECONDARY WHEN POTATOES WAIT

CHARLESTON, S. C., May 28.—Business comes before education on John's Island where school district twenty-one is located.

Pitt "Liberals" Stage Meeting

Pitt Officials Fail To Interfere With "Liberals" Meeting On Campus

PITTSBURGH, May 28.—University of Pittsburgh "Liberals" had their final fling last night.

Headed by an instructor, Pitt's irreconcilables again marched up and staged a meeting on the campus which has been forbidden them by university edict, passed resolutions demanding the immediate freeing of Thomas J. Mooney and W. K. Billings, California laborers now serving sentences in San Quentin penitentiary for a preparedness day bombing in San Francisco in 1916, and denounced the university administration for muzzleing "free speech and freedom of thought" at Pitt.

Mrs. Marian R. Davis of Pitt's staff of business research issued the call for the meeting and presented the Mooney-Billings resolution.

Rev. William Nowell, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church of Houston, Pa., was also present at the meeting. Rev. Nowell is a Pitt graduate, having taken his degree in 1927. He characterized as "outrageous" the denial of free speech and freedom of assembly on the campus.

No attempt was made by university authorities to interfere with the meeting.

And the liberals didn't attract so much attention as they expected.

They forgot one thing. Examinations at Pitt started today. And everybody was too busy studying up to worry about free speech or jailed labor leaders.

In the spring the young man's judgment turns to Hi-test TYDOL

It's Spring! So who can blame the boy if he lets his right arm rest gently about the shoulders of the Only Girl as they speed along the blossom scented countryside?

But there are hills to climb. And moist, mud-caked roads to conquer. And gear-shifting and romance don't mix very well.

So in the Spring, the young man's fancy . . . and good judgment . . . turn soundly to the selection of Hi-test TYDOL.

For "reduced gear-shifting" is only one of the advantages of Hi-test TYDOL. There's instant starting. And double acceleration. And anti-knock. And silken, silent super-power. All "extra cost" advantages . . . but without the extra cost!

What wonder that new pumps for this emerald green TYDOL are springing up like mushrooms and working overtime to keep up with the demand! You can't hide such super-value from wide-awake motorists.

NEW YORK, May 28.—It will be difficult for many to understand why the late Nora Bayes, who was a star so long, left nothing. Perhaps because she gave it away to the needy. Even her effects which were auctioned some time ago attracted little, and last week it was discovered that her remains have not yet been interred. Her body still lies on ice in an undertaking place.

According to Benedict Gimbel, Jr., there is a church on Fifth avenue noted for its aristocratic congregation. It was amazed one day to see a colored woman in the balcony. It distressed them no little and they complained to the clergyman, who tactfully told the worshipper that before wishing to join his flock she should go home and talk to God about it and see what he says. A week later she returned.

Big Celebration For Emmet Rocco

Long Line Of Cars Parades
Streets Of City, As Friends
Fete Fighter Champ-
To-Be

ELLWOOD CITY, May 28.—Monday night was "Rocco" night in Ellwood City. A host celebrated in honor of Emmet Rocco, local citizen, who has established himself as entitled to be placed among the leading contenders for the world's heavyweight boxing championship. Some time ago he defeated Johnny Risko in Cleveland which placed him high among the contenders.

Charles Stiner led the parade as marshal, and was followed by the American Legion bugle and drum corps. Then came Emmet Rocco, escorted in a gorgeous float of white, lavender and green, making a fitting lead to the long line of admiring friends who followed in cars through the streets of the city. With Rocco in the float were Joe Cuno, his manager, and Charles Cox.

One clever feature of the parade was a large sedan containing two small boys, attired in flannel and boxing gloves. They sparred back and forth while spot-lights played on them. These were two of Rocco's proteges, of whom he has many learning the art of boxing here.

The parade concluded at the Sons of Italy hall where a program and refreshments were enjoyed.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

By J. Carroll Mansfield

The Story Of The World War
XXI—The Retreat Of The Allies

FALLING BACK FROM THE CAMBRAIE CATEAU LINE, THE FRENCH AND BRITISH ARMIES REACHED THE RIVER SOMME. FROM THIS POSITION GEN. JOFFRE HAD PLANNED TO TURN ABOUT AND LAUNCH A POWERFUL COUNTER-OFFENSIVE. HOWEVER, THE GERMANS APPROACHED THE SOMME BEFORE THE FRENCH LEADER WAS READY, AND THE RETIREMENT OF THE ALLIED ARMIES KEPT ON.

WITH THE ALLIES IN FULL RETREAT ACROSS FRANCE, GEN. VON MOLTKE, COMMANDING ALL THE GERMAN FORCES ON THE WESTERN FRONT, BELIEVED THE CAMPAIGN WAS PRACTICALLY WON. HE EVEN WITHDREW A DIVISIONS FROM HIS RIGHT WING AND SENT THEM TO EAST PRUSSIA WHERE THEY WERE NEEDED AGAINST THE RUSSIANS.

AUGUST 30, VON MOLTKE, HOPING TO CATCH THE ALLIES BETWEEN THE JAWS OF A GIANT NUT-CRACKER, SENT PRINCE RUPTRECHT'S 5TH GERMAN ARMY TO SMASH THROUGH THE FRENCH EASTERN LINE TO NANCY. BUT HERE DE CASTELNAU'S 2ND FRENCH ARMY STOOD LIKE A ROCK, AND THE GERMANS WERE REPULSED AFTER A WEEK OF HARD FIGHTING AT GRAND COURONNE.

THE GERMANS HAD PLANNED TO CONQUER FRANCE IN SIX WEEKS. THE SUCCESS OF VON KLUCK'S WHEELING MOVEMENT IN THE WEST, WHICH BY AUGUST 30 HAD PASSED AMIENS AND WAS RACING TOWARD PARIS, SEEMED TO POINT TO FULFILLMENT OF THIS EXPECTATION. THE ALLIED ARMIES, STEADILY RETREATING SOUTHWARD, WERE ALREADY CROSSING THE MARNE. TOMORROW—PARIS THREATENED.

Eagerness Is Shown By Aliens Seeking To Become Citizens

Who is the chief justice of the United States Supreme Court? How many members comprise this court? What is the thirteenth amendment to the United States Constitution? The seventeenth? How many branches of government do we have and what are they?

This is not an examination in civics or memory test. Just a few of the questions asked the candidates for citizenship who are passing through the official hands of Naturalization Examiner Throckmorton who is holding court here.

Two Out Of Three
For some reason the proportion of those accepted was about two out of three on Monday. The third failing to pass the examination was disqualified for the most part, because of inability to answer the questions.

Nord, and Latin and Slav. Celi, and Czech and Gaul, all of them had their turn. For months they had been studying questions and answers, perhaps closer than many a native and all because they believed the United States was the country for them.

Eager eyed they were, all of them. It meant throwing off of Old World shackles, the final renunciation of their native country, the taking on of citizenship in a country where there was more opportunity than in the one they left, where birth meant not so much as ambition and initiative.

"Could Make The Law"
One applicant admitted to Examiner Throckmorton and Judge Hildebrand that he thought he could make the laws of the country. He knew the form of government, the manner in which laws, ergo, why not him? Another applicant had a little difficulty when it became known that

China Strife-Stricken

China does not seem to be able to recover from the shock of warfare before the different factions are at each other again. The map above shows the centers of the new warfare between the Nationalists, under Chiang-Kia Shek and Marshal Feng Yu-hsiang. The Nationalists are heading northward on the principal rail routes from Hankow (A) to Nanking (B). Feng, whose headquarters are at Chengchow (C), has cut the western trunk line and is believed heading toward Hsu-Chew.

Roaming Round With Richards

Some News, Some Views, But Mostly Just Observations Of Interesting Things Around New Castle

One can hardly expect to ever see perfection attained. But can strive for it, hope for it, and occasionally come close to it. Out of uncounted banquets in the past nine years I can think of none that could class as the perfect banquet, but the National Radiator bowlers came so close to it last night that the goal was in sight.

Not even the most fastidious would suggest that roast chicken properly done wasn't a tasty morsel. And when it is flanked by half a dozen other tasty morsels and topped off with strawberry shortcake that had the guests waiting to nominate the cook for president or something then perhaps you may agree with me that it was considerable of a banquet.

There was a day when Jack McCoy would walk a square or even a couple of squares if pressed. But not since he got a car. He now qualifies for the confab as the ridiest chap in town. About 150 yards from the scene of the banquet last night is the site of the new school in Harlansburg. Suggested to Jack that we walk up the road and take a look and he responded that it was too far to walk.

He probably wouldn't walk three squares to see President Hoover go by on an old fashioned bicycle.

New smiles. "As loud as Joe Cummo's shirt." It isn't exactly loud. You couldn't call an explosion loud. It's a roar. So is the shirt. It has all the snappy appearance of a mess of wallpaper that didn't quite jell and was set out to cool while it was still poey. The colors are black and white but what the designer did with that combination has to be seen to be really appreciated. Some day I would like to meet that designer and ask him if he still has the D. T's.

Joe insists that he got it in New York, which doesn't prove a thing. He might have bought it in Chicopee Falls, Ohio, and it would still be a riot.

Some days when you have an idea that you know considerable, take a trip up to Naturalization court and imagine that you are getting your papers. If you can answer all the questions asked the candidates for citizenship, you're good. By the way what is the 17th amendment to the United States Constitution. Read quickly.

This one didn't happen in a local court but it fits. A swarthy lad from Southern Italy was asked who the first president was, who is chief justice of the supreme court and failed on both of them. "Not admitted" said the examiner, whereupon the alien asked the examiner, "how many bunches in a stand of bananas?" The examiner couldn't answer to which the alien replied "that proves that each of us knows his own business, but we don't know the other fellow's."

If moving vans continue to get larger it will be possible to move whole apartment houses in one load. Saw an Ohio van this morning making the turn at Mercer and North. The truck body was so large that it was necessary to go up over the sidewalk to get around.

There will be no premature opening of the Rapp's Mill bridge. The contractor has taken care of anything like what happened at the Wampum viaduct. The bridge is ready for its formal opening, but to stop any attempts to use it before that day, the contractor has pulled up a steam shovel at one end and left it scowling there. Any lad caring to drive over the bridge can go through a steam shovel. Ever try it?

Gold Star Mothers
To Make Pilgrimages

Red Cross Here Gets More Information Regarding Coming Trips

According to information received at the local Red Cross office, the secretary of war is mailing to all mothers, widows or next of kin letters telling of the act of March 2, 1929, which provides for Gold Star mothers pilgrimages to the battle fields of Europe for mothers and widows of World war veterans.

The secretary is endeavoring to learn how many persons are eligible to join one of these pilgrimages and how many desire to go during 1930. Probably three annual pilgrimages will be made, the first early in 1930, as the dates fixed by law are "from May 1, 1930 to October 31, 1933."

Special passports will be issued by the secretary of state without charge. Mothers or widows who are aliens will be readmitted to the United States upon return without regard to the laws concerning immigration or exclusion of aliens.

P. J. Dempsey of the local Red Cross, said this morning that in speaking of "mothers" it means a mother, a step-mother, mother through adoption or any woman who stood in loco parentis to the deceased veteran for the year prior to the commencement of his services in such forces. The term "widow" means a widow who has not remarried since the death of the veteran.

By the year 1932 "cotton patches" had become quite general on the plantations of South Carolina.

Dempsey Must Fight Again, Big Bad Wolfe Is Barking At Door

Former Heavyweight Champion "Money Poor" Must Enter Ring Again

Believe Dempsey Will Fight At Miami Beach Next February; Goes To Chicago

By DAVID J. WALSH
Sports Editor International News Service
NEW YORK, May 28.—Jack Dempsey is "money poor." This admitted is a hard way to get such a million or so that you ought to be able to call your own but my information today is that Dempsey has done it. I am told that, in spite of a more than snug fortune that he has piled up, he still is able to find himself today where the sight of a winner galloping home to papa would look just splendid.

He pulled up stakes on Broadway yesterday, declaring in favor of working a claim just on the edge of Chicago's loop. Why? Because he is after a quick winner and Broadway looked the part of a very slow, if not tedious, loser. He might have collected his $50,000 salary from Pugazy but that's hardly money to the boy friend. In fact, he told the writer yesterday that he had spent about as much as he had collected from Pugazy in their two month's association. The kind of money he is looking for is known in the racket as "coarse money," meaning vulgarly large.

If Dempsey can't get it any other way, he is going to fight for it at Miami next February. First, however, he will see what he can do about promoting himself into a lot of big bills and I mean the kind the government engraves, not the kind some faithful retainers place deferentially at your elbow on the first of the month. Promoting is one way of getting out of boxing without the punch on the nose.

It is considered bad taste to punch a promoter on the nose until several days after he pays you off. By that time, you generally are in line for another pay day. Thus, the incident is postponed periodically until finally the promoter retires—if not with a comfortable fortune, at least with a contented phibosia. The boy friend is understood to approve of this method.

Wilmington And Union Are Champs

New Wilmington And Union Apparent Champs In County High Baseball

WINNERS WILL TILT SHORTLY

Monday evening New Wilmington high school varsity baseball team defeated the East Brook varsity by a 5 to 4 score in a game played on the East Brook diamond. This game gives the college town team the undisputed championship of the eastern section of the county class B league.

Batteries for Wilmington were Hutschen and Hartwell while East Brook's were McConnell and Martin. Wilmington didn't score until the sixth inning but made up for the loss by bringing in four runs and one more in the seventh.

East Brook scored two in the first and one in both the third and fourth. But seven innings were played by arrangement.

This game, according to members of the county athletic committee, gives New Wilmington high the eastern division of the county championship. East Brook was a big threat in the league and this defeat Monday evening preventing them from becoming champs.

In the western section of the league there are still some games to be played on account of a number of postponements which were forced due to rain and inclement weather.

Union Winner.
The way the figures stand at the present time, however, indicate that Union is and will be the champion of the western section.

According to several members of the county athletic committee in unofficial statements, Union has the title clinched.

Just when the county championship game between New Wilmington and Union will occur is not known as yet, but it will probably take place within the next few days. Neither is it known where the game will be played.

This game will decide the winning team of the county and will also mark the close of the first official baseball league in the county class B high schools.

The county has been divided into two sections, an eastern and western division throughout the league.

Teams in the western section were Union, Mr. Jackson, Warrum, Shearman and Bessemer. In the eastern section were Wilmington, East Brook, Blainville, Princeton and Volant.

The league of these 10 county high teams was started on April 20 and games have been played weekly and twice weekly since that time.

O'Leary And O'Dowd Box 10 Round Draw

Main Bout At Jolly Bowl Lacks Usual Thrills As 124 Pounders Flash Science Instead Of Punch; Romeo And Eddie Weygant Furnish Action In Semi-Final.

By ED FRITZ
Dick O'Leary, Cleveland and Eddie O'Dowd, Columbus, 124 pounders, met at the Jolly bowl last night and after 10 rounds of boxing the decision was called a draw.

It was not a fight over which fans raved. In fact the contest failed to enthrall the fans. It contained lots of science but few thrills and at no time did a knockdown or slugfest seem imminent.

O'Leary forced the fighting and tried to inveigle O'Dowd into a slug-fest but the foxy veteran was content to punch and cuff enough to win a draw decision.

O'Leary looked good in the second, fourth and fifth when he pounded rights to O'Dowd's head after driving him to the ropes. The foxy Columbus had however, wiggled close and clinched.

At the end of the sixth round the writer asked O'Dowd's seconds to bustle him along as the fight had been lusterless. The request, however, was not accommodated by O'Dowd.

Semi-Final Good.
The semi-final between Eddie Weygant and Romeo Paceil, local featherweights really proved the "main bout" of the night. The announcer, McDonough, made an error in reading the decision.

The blanks when turned in to Larry Gent, commission deputy, showed that Dugan had given the fight to Weygant. Fox had turned the bout to a draw and Referee Chip favored Paceil.

The announcer was ordered to read the slips accurately, which he did. However, the decision should have gone to Weygant who forced the fighting, landed often and hard and took four rounds.

Radiator Bowlers End Season With Banquet; Prizes Are Presented

Radiators and bowlers were pushed aside for lighter, and more edible things Monday evening, May 27 when the National Radiator Bowling League held its annual banquet in the Harlansburg Inn at Harlansburg. Strikes and spares went ahead of castings and sections and the smoke of the cypola gave way to the aroma of roast chicken.

It was in the nature of a dual celebration. First it was a celebration of the conclusion of a successful season, and secondly it was the time for jubilation over the third successive win from the Johnstown plant, which keeps the trophy in possession of the local plant.

Ralph W. Bolsinger, Toastmaster of the local plant acted as toastmaster of the evening, and after wrapping themselves around a lot of chicken, potatoes, and strawberry short cake, the men settled back for one of the briefest speaking sessions it was ever a pleasure to hear.

E. L. Brundage, plant superintendent spoke first and he said it with prizes. He had offered a ten dollar gold piece to the high average of the season and one for the high score for one game. H. Raab won the first gold piece and Robert Hamilton the other. Mr. Brundage congratulated the teams upon their work of the season and sat down.

Mr. Bolsinger then presented his ten dollar gold prize to Titus Monath for the high score for three games for the season and added a few brief remarks.

Jack McCoy spoke briefly and presented the members of the winning team, the Smokeless (Office) team, each with a pencil. Bart Richards of The News was the last speaker of the evening.

Some splendid scores were bowled during the year and a resume shown below shows that the Radiators bowlers are among the best in the city. The recapitulation of the season's work follows.

Final Standing Of Teams

Team	W	L	Pct.
Smokeless (Office)	54	22	70.9

Colored Stars To Face Tough Card

The National Radiator Colored Stars will have a tough program for this week.

Tonight the Colored Stars battle the Princeton team, at the Radiator field, in a City-County League game. The battle will start at 6:30 o'clock.

Thursday morning, the Stars will play Harlansburg in a City-County League game, at 10:30 o'clock, and in the afternoon will play the Italian A. A. at Centennial Field.

Friday evening the Colored Stars will go to South Hills to meet the Boro A. C. in a City-County League tilt. The Stars are in good condition, and are out to make a clean sweep of the four games on this week's program.

Church League

Two games are on tap tonight in the New Castle Church League. One game is on the regular schedule and one game is a postponed affair from earlier in the season.

The Congregationalists will meet the First Christians at Mahoning field with Bishop the umpire. The Croton team battles the General Presbyterians at Croton field with McCombs the official.

Heavy Hitting Bout.
They tried and fought hard and bared medallions their blows carried team. As the fight went into the last round they sloved up but it was a hard fought heavy hitting affair.

Young Corsey, 130, Canton won the decision from Tommy Heilmann, 131. Donora, in the second battle of four rounds. There was action every section and the fans liked the fight.

Vito Mazzeo, 117½, Cleveland scored a technical knockout over Tony Icone, 117½, New Castle in a round. They had been boxing less than a minute when Vito dropped Tony.

In falling Icone's head struck and bounded from the floor and the bump robbed Tony of his senses but he got up instinctively and Mazzeo rushed him to the floor again and the bout was stopped.

Old-Timers Today

By GEORGE STOVALL

Somewhere in the war-torn land of Mexico, if the last news I heard of him still holds good, is an aging athlete making a gallant fight against the enemy who wins in the end over all athletes—Time. The man is Hal Chase, as graceful and sure an athlete as ever donned a baseball uniform. The last I heard of Hal was that he was managing a semi-pro outfit in Nogales, Sonora, Mexico, which the revolution caused him to move back to the United States or not, I do not know.

Chase, who blazed a shining trail of stardom while with the New York Americans, Buffalo Federals, Cincinnati Reds and New York Giants before fading out of organized ball to join an outlaw league in the south-west, was the greatest first baseman baseball ever saw.

The little red books in which are enshrined the star performances of major leaguers, past and present, are dotted with feats of Hal Chase. For instance, he accepted 22 chances in each of two games. In 1906 Hal made 22 putouts in one game. And so on.

As a first baseman in the days when Chase was in his prime, and after being with the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast league before going to the big leagues.

Next—Sam Crawford.

Dempsey Leaves Broadway, Will Go To Chicago

Former Champion Severs Connections With Humbert J. Fugazy And Edward Cole

NEW YORK, May 28.—Jack Dempsey has turned his back on Broadway—at least temporarily—in favor of Chicago.

The ex-heavyweight champion of the world declared that his association with Humbert J. Fugazy and Edward Cole was terminated because a suitable outdoor arena here for doing exhibitions could not be obtained.

Dempsey said he therefore was agreeing to accept a proposition from the backers of the Chicago Coliseum.

Pirates Defeat Cardinals 10-1

Jess Petty Return To Form, And Pirates Again "Sock" Cham-pions

SPORTSMEN'S PARK, St. Louis, May 28.—The Pittsburgh Pirates made it three straight over the Cardinals yesterday afternoon when Jess Petty, former Brooklyn heavier, tamed the Cards. The score was 10 to 1.

The Bushmen climbed on Hallahan and Sherdel for 14 safe swats, and ran the bases wildly. George Grantham was the big nose of the game with a pair of home runs and a single. Paul Waner had a pair of doubles.

Petty had the upper hand on the Southworth clan the entire way. The Pirates gave their best hurler fine support, going errorless. The Cards also had an errorless afternoon, but their bats were not working.

Model Athletes

By QUIN HALL.

Contrary to the accepted belief, a fellow can be a model young man without being sappy, silly or a sissy. And even a fellow who follows professional sports for a living can be successful without spending all of his spare time in speakeasies and the like.

The latest model athlete to pop before the public is young Horton Smith, Joplin pro golfer who has already to spear a nice mess of golf titles and is still youthful enough to have a great future ahead of him. Smith is a model young man without being a sissy. He doesn't smoke. He drinks plain milk. He doesn't go in for petting parties and he hits the hay early in the evening. And—he is a right smart golf player.

Smith is a charming fellow. Horton is particularly modest about those shots which have devastated golfers who are much more talkative.

Jumping over to what is supposed to be the most brutal of the modern sports, we find Gene Tunney, ex-champion heavyweight who upset the traditions of pugilism while he was associated with the racket by refusing to make little pals out of all the hangers-on in the fight game. His actions made him somewhat unpopular with a certain class that are usually to be found loafing around fight camps before big brawls but he gained the respect of certain other classes. Tunney never was the popular ideal of a heavyweight champ but he had his own ideas on the subject and he followed those ideas at the cost of popularity with the gang and the mob.

Lou Gehrig the home-run crown prince of the New York Yankees is listed among the model young men of baseball. Lou is good to his folks. His one questionable habit is (kiddies say) eat eating.

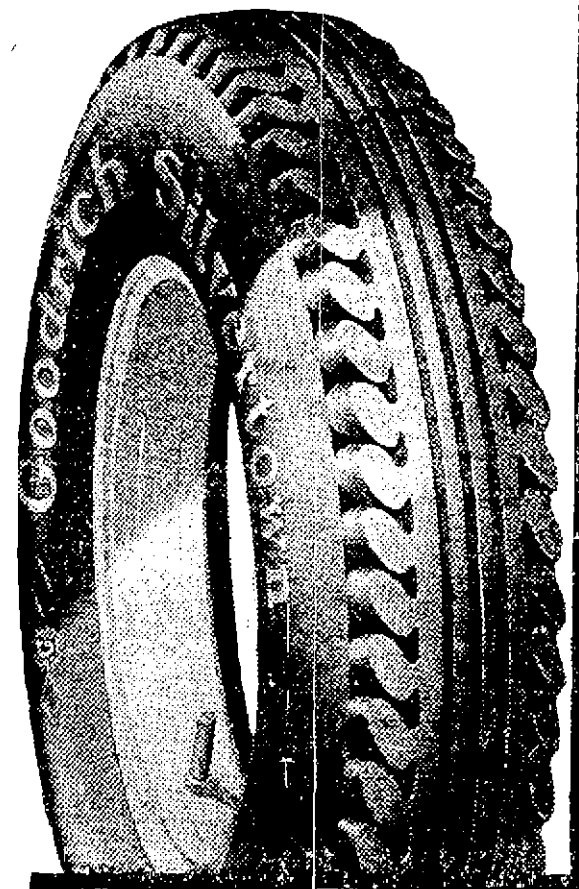

There are probably many more model young men who figure in the headlines of the sport pages daily, but those mentioned are enough to prove that a lot of the old time rodyism has been taken out of our sports.

Grantham Hits Two Home Runs

Pittsburgh Pirates in Hitting Mood, Trim Cards Again; Threaten Cubs

PHILLIES BACK IN STRIDE AGAIN

By LES CONKLIN

(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, May 28.—A bold, blistering Buccaneer yelped Donie Bush is the bogey man of the National league these days, for his Pirates are in a hitting mood and that means trouble for all hands. Their slugging, plus the pitching of Grimes and the return to form of Petty and Kremer, make a combination that is hard to beat.

The Bucs have won their last six games and are only half a game behind the league-leading Cubs today. They jumped to second place by routing St. Louis again, 10 to 1, for their sixth win in eight games with the champions this season. Petty southpawed the Cardinal sluggers to death while his mates pounded Hallahan and Sherdel for 14 hits, George Grantham leading the attack with two home runs and a single.

Kris Trim Cuts.

The directors of the Cincinnati club gave Manager Jack Hendricks a vote of confidence, whereupon the Reds stepped right out and trimmed the Cubs, 8 to 5, ending their losing streak of nine defeats.

The Phillies got back into the first division by two-climbing the Braves, 2 to 1 and 3 to 1. Bengie and Witherby did the pitching and lots of it.

The rejuvenated White Sox also took both ends of their double bill with Detroit, 7 to 4 and 6 to 5, coming from behind to win both games. Thirty-six players, including nine pitchers, labored in the nightcap. Tommy Thomas winning his own game with a single in the 14th inning.

George Blahodier pitched his second victory of the series as the St. Louis Browns subdued Cleveland, 3 to 1.

Babe Ruth smacked out two homers, and Lou Gehrig one, but it was all in vain, the occasion being an exhibition game with the Hartford, Conn., club.

which had been hanging fire for some time.

"Beginning in October, I am going to put on some real good shows in Chicago," said Dempsey. "That will give me an opportunity to lay my plans to come into New York."

Contract Ended.

The announcement that the contract is at an end was made formally by Dempsey's attorneys, O'Brien, Malerinski and Driscoll. Dempsey stated that there was no quarrel between himself, Fugazy and Cole.

"I like Fugazy and Cole and they are splendid fellows," said Dempsey, "and I wish that I could go on with them. However, at the time we signed our agreement, I realized how important it was to have a suitable outdoor arena in New York for putting on boxing exhibitions of the first rank."

"At the time we signed the agreement we put in a provision which gave me the right to terminate the contract if within two months Fugazy and Cole were unable to procure such a site for an arena."

"In the meantime, I had a very interesting proposition in Chicago. The Kansas City heavyweights, knocked out Joe O'Brien, Indianapolis (3).

Jimmy McNamara, New York lightweight, won decision over Angelo Gentile, also of New York (10).

AT BOSTON—Ralph Smith, Los Angeles heavyweight, stopped "Big Boy" Rawson of Boston (2).

The First M. E. baseball team defeated the First Baptists 7 to 4, in a New Castle Church League game at Croton field. The Baptists had but five hits off Barber and Hughes. The Methodists scored their seven runs in the two final innings, by bunting their hits.

NEW YORK STOCKS

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, May 28.—The wave of selling which carried all prices downward near the close of Monday's session appeared to have spent its force and many of the speculative leaders won back a portion of their lost ground in the early trading today.

As soon as over-hanging stock was removed, prices rallied feebly. The pools and professionals came to the rescue of a few of their favorites, but the market as a whole made little progress in the first hour.

Steel sold up about a point at 16 1/2. United Aircraft recovered 5 points. General Electric 3 1/2. General Motors 1 point. American Can 1 1/2. Student-baker 1. Packard Motor 2. These advances were offset by corresponding losses in other sections of the list.

Yellow Truck being under fire and most of the oil stocks wobbly. Chrysler Motor was also unable to stand up under the flood of selling orders.

The further decline in grain prices was a disappointing factor, since its effect may be to force continued liquidation of stocks in the western sections of the country.

Industrial stocks were churned around in a narrow price range in the second hour. Erie was a leader in the rally, with a moderate advance to 60 1/2. The independent steel shares recovered a point or two on a small turnover.

Atchafalpa sold up 3 points at 207 and St. Joseph Lead was the strongest of the metals stocks. With stock sales running about a million shares an hour, the ticker fell behind 15 minutes in the first 90 minutes.

Call money was unchanged at 6 per cent.

Hoover Meets With Enforcement Board

President Hoover Issues Call For Fact-Find Commission To Meet Today

Will Talk Over Plan Of Investigation Into Every Phase Of Crime And Dry Laws

By GEORGE E. BURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON, May 28.—President Hoover formally launches today what he confidently expects to be the first point of his early administration the sweeping investigation of the down of law enforcement.

This afternoon, the executive will assemble around the cabinet table the ten men and one woman in whose hands he has placed the task of this Herculean task. After an informal lunch at the White House, he will bring them together for this initial meeting, charge them, and lay down a rough agenda for their guidance.

It is Mr. Hoover's plan that this law enforcement commission, headed by George W.ickersham, attorney general during the Taft administration, shall go into every phase of the present-day failure of a surprisingly large number of the population to observe the law. Further, he expects the little group to examine searchingly the archaic structure of the federal law-enforcement machinery and determine upon the changes that will make it a surer, and better-moving force.

Plans Rigid Probe
Popular interest, of course, will center around the prohibition phase of the inquiry. Despite the president's protestations that flouting of the eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act is only a comparatively minor phase of the situation, the public at large is interested primarily in what the commission may find concerning the liquor laws.

Mr. Hoover has indicated he wants ways and means found to tighten up enforcement and observance, but the wets are hopeful the "fact-finding body" may arrive at the conclusion prohibition is not popular, to be workable and the dries are equally hopeful that "the noble experiment" will be given the brand of permanency.

According to plans already formulated, the commencement exercises will begin on June 8 and end on June 11 with the formal granting of diplomas to 234 students.

Desiring the same thing tends to make a happy marriage—unless it's the same dollar.

Above, White House grounds showing shrubbery which is being attacked by beetles. Inset, Japanese beetle of the type which is causing trouble at President Hoover's domicile, consuming a peach. Below, left, the beetle which attacks all kinds of cultivated plants and is capable of transforming the most fruitful region into a desert. # New Castle Dry Goods Co.

The Woman's Club—Organized in 1887.

"GOD COULDN'T BE EVERYWHERE, SO HE MADE MOTHERS."

In this proverb, even the pagan recognizes in the mother, a God appointed guardian of the race.

Our own city knows no greater need than just such guardianship or mothering—for our homes, for our schools, for our recreations and for our public housekeeping. To aid such work is the aim of this column.

GOOD YEAR'S WORK

Reports given yesterday at the closing meeting of the Woman's club were most interesting and encouraging. In the absence of Mrs. E. A. Fenton, chairman of the Hospital committee, her report was given by Mrs. P. H. Reider, Howard Magill, and Mrs. George Harbison. These reports told the story of many visits made to the Sherrango Valley hospital, the New Castle hospital, Lawrence County home and Almira home, of magazines given out, Christmas cheer and gifts distributed and jellies and fruits dispensed liberally. Of companionship given and visits to homes to see convalescent children.

Public Welfare Department

This department reported the sponsoring of a public meeting in the interest of health at which Dr. W. C. Kane of the Gorgas Memorial foundation, lectured on "The Annual Health Examination"; the extensive community Christmas tree project; and a New Castle welfare day, including the distribution of a printed leaflet of all the welfare agencies of the city. The Memorial Hospital avenue of trees was reported as still uncompleted on account of delay in the grading. The club authorized the payment of money for same when needed. (The cost will be in the neighborhood of $500.00). This department also recommended that the Sherrango Valley hospital, which seemed unfortunate in its time of day, children are needed at home in the forenoon of Saturday.

An extra number was given on the program by this department in the "Outlawry of War" by Lucie Ames Mead. Our first club institute was sponsored by the Education department on March 4, at which Mrs. J. G. Chaffant of Pittsburgh presided.

Books were asked for and between 75 and one hundred distributed between the schools and county jail. Another project of this department was the high school essay contest on "Why Should I Vote?" The winner, Ruth Kelly was given a $5.00 prize. The schools have not yet announced the winning school in the contest in spelling and rapid arithmetic.

Mrs. James Smith reported the social meetings for the year which have afforded much enjoyment and given opportunity for getting acquainted.

Fine Arts Department, Mrs. Street, Chairman

Mrs. E. F. G. Harper of the Drama committee reported of playlet given and reading lists prepared for club members; Mrs. Fox of literature committee told of reading club organized cookies and dainties were sent to the Margaret Henry Home, and on April 26, Mrs. V. Healy, director of vocational household economics in the senior high school, gave an interesting talk on what is being done toward improving the homes through this branch of work.

Education Department

Almost from start to finish, the work of this department is one of cooperation with our public schools. This included the sponsoring the work of vocational household economics in the senior high school in the giving of two teas in the junior high schools with talks explaining the advantage of such a high school course; also the combined effort for a special movie matinee for children which seemed unfortunate in its time of day. Children are needed at home in the forenoon of Saturday.

Mrs. E. F. G. Harper of the Drama committee reported of playlet given and reading lists prepared for club members; Mrs. Fox of literature committee told of reading club organized and of original program given and a suggested reading list of fiction, non-fiction and poetry.

Other fine reports were given by Mrs. H. L. Dague, membership; Mrs. Robert McKinney White, budget; Mrs. Brennan, legislation; Mrs. Ellwood Gilbert, recording secretary; Mrs. Albert Fankhauser, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. David Ritchie, treasurer.

The report of the publicity chairman, Mrs. J. G. Nothdurft, showed that notices and reports of all meetings had been given through The News and thirty-one issues of the club column—New Castle Our Castle—published. Appreciation was expressed of the space and courteous treatment given by The News.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The final meeting of this school semester for the senior high school Hi-Y club occurred Monday evening at the Y, with Clifford Pollock in charge.

Each of the 36 boys gave farewell remarks and the newly elected officers, Clifford Pollock, Kenneth Myers, Kenneth Atkinson and John White, each gave talks.

Gifts were presented to Virgil Kelley and Don Huffman, members of the club who are graduating this year. This play may be cancelled.

Members of the George Washington Hi-Y club are having their final meeting this evening. Play practice is scheduled. It is also announced that this play may be cancelled.
